UKRAINIAN FORCES MAKE THEIR FIRST LARGE-SCALE INCURSION INTO RUSSIA

Russia was on Wednesday trying to repel a major incursion by Ukrainian forces in its Kursk region with thousands of residents evacuated

1,000 UKRAINIAN TROOPS INVOLVED: KREMLIN

Russian army chief Valery Gerasimov said up to 1,000 Ukrainian troops are involved in the cross-border attack, the largest by Ukraine since Russia's full-scale invasion two years ago. Ukraine-backed armed groups had made several brief incursions into Russia before. But this operation is unprecedented for its deployment of Ukrainian military units. Ukraine is yet to confirm the operation

Waqf Bill may go to House panel after it is tabled today

PREETHA NAIR AND RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

A day before it is expected to table the Waqf (Amendment) Bill that is expected to become another flashpoint in the Lok Sabha, the Centre appeared amenable to the Opposition's demand for sending it to a Parliament standing committee for detailed scrutiny.

The government told Parliament's Business Advisory Committee (BAC) meeting on Wednesday that it will take a call on sending the bill to a House panel after it is tabled in the Lower House. It said it would not press for a discussion on the bill and its passage after introduction. The Centre will then seek the Rajya Sabha's nod to withdraw the Waqf Properties (Eviction of Unauthorised Occupants) Bill, 2014.

The bill was circulated among LS members on Tuesday night ahead of its introduction, as reported by this paper.

Sources said there is a possibility that government will agree to Opposition's demand. They said certain parties supportive of the Centre have expressed reservations over the proposed legislation.

Indian Olympic Association tried speaking with the United World Wrestling but the world body maintained rules are rules

AFTER a night and day of high drama, it's perhaps poetic that Vinesh Phogat's Olympics fate will be decided not by fellow athletes but by people in suits. If it was to be decided by athletes, she would have had at least a silver now. But because it's going to be decided by administrators and lawyers, her hopes of coming back from Paris with a medal remains hanging by the slenderest of threads imaginable. On Wednesday morning, Phogat fell short by 100 grams at the weigh-in some 12 hours before a possible history-making gold medal bout. The weighing scale should have returned a reading of 50.00 or below. It returned a reading of 50.10 — she was disqualified.

After sitting on it for the entire day in Paris — some of it spent inside a facility while she being administered drips after a night from hell — Phogat and her team decided to appeal United World Wrestling's (UWW) decision at the Court of Arbitration for Sport (CAS), a world body created for settling sporting disputes.

In a cruel twist of fate, it began as soon as Phogat entered the final of the women's 50 kg at the Olympics on Tuesday night. As somebody who has historically had a problem in making weight, the grappler and her team knew they were going to be in a world of suffering. She had put in weight — over 52 kg — during the course of her three bouts on Tuesday. With less than 12 hours remaining for the second and final weigh-in, the onerous, sometimes even dangerous task of shedding it began. She had to drink fluids to remain hydrated and eat light to keep her energy levels high. They spent an extra two hours on the mat, trying to lose about 2 kg. She exercised. She used the sauna. She sparred. When dawn broke over the Athletes Village, she was roughly 500 grams over. They even chopped off some hair.

At the weigh-in, the weighing scale returned three seemingly innocuous numbers — 50.1 — but it was enough to shatter her. After the unsavoury morning, the 29-year-old grappler went back to the Games Village and was administered drips for dehydration. It is understood that her blood pressure fell to 101/60. Post that, there was some blood work done to check all her health parameters because she had gone through extreme dehydration. Even as the news sent shockwaves across the wrestling fraternity, Phogat regrouped in her room. After fighting administrators on New Delhi's streets for over the last 18 months, she now hopes for a positive response from a bunch of lawyers in Lausanne. P17

MP CM: Have come to B'luru to invite IT majors to set up biz in my state

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

IN a major push to invite industries and boost investment opportunities, especially in the Information Technology sector in Madhya Pradesh, Chief Minister Dr Mohan Yadav arrived in the city along with his delegation on Wednesday for an interactive session with industrialists as part of the 'Road to Global Investors Summit (GIS)' series.

Soon after his arrival, Yadav visited the HAL campus and according to sources, the defence PSU is said to have evinced interest in setting up its unit in MP.

The MP CM is keen on pushing for investments in various sectors, and IT is its top priority. For the first time, the central Indian state is looking for investments in space technology and Bengaluru is the ideal place for both these niche sectors.

In an exclusive interview with TNIE, Yadav said there cannot be a better place than Bengaluru to look for investment opportunities in the IT sector. "We have come with open arms to meet the IT majors and business heads of various industries with an invitation to set up businesses in MP. Our intention is not to take away investments from Karnataka, but to invite them to MP also. We have a business-friendly industry policy and our 2023 IT policy is one of the best in the country," said Yadav.

One of the biggest advantages of investing in MP is the competitive cost of living. "The industries can do their business at a much more competitive cost than Bengaluru. It will be a win-win situation for them and their workforce," Yadav said.

He said he had sent a team to recce Bengaluru and elicit views of the industries a few days ahead of his arrival. "We got positive feedback. During the two-day session in Bengaluru, we hope to convert those interests into commitments. We will invite all those, who have shown interest in investing in MP, to come for a regional conclave in Gwalior on August 28," Yadav said.

This will be followed by GIS in February next year. The two-day session, which began here on August 7, is aimed at boosting investment opportunities in Madhya Pradesh, and is in preparation for the 'Invest Madhya Pradesh-Global Investors Summit 2025' to be held in February next year.

Yadav has declared 2025 as Industrial Year for MP and has been seeking investments from outside the state. Before Bengaluru, he visited Mumbai and Coimbatore and got "successful feedback," he said.

The goal of the session is to position MP as the premier investment destination in the country by highlighting its abundant resources, skilled workforce, mining and favourable industrial environment to leading industrial institutions. INTERVIEW: P10

Yunus-led govt to take oath today

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

BANGLADESH army chief General Waker-Uz-Zaman said on Wednesday that the interim government headed by Nobel laureate Muhammad Yunus will be sworn in at 8.00 pm on Thursday. Bangladesh President Mohammed Shahabuddin had on Tuesday appointed Yunus as chief advisor to the caretaker government. The advisory council may have 15 members, the army chief said.

Yunus boarded a flight from Charles de Gaulle Airport in Paris on Wednesday. Talking to reporters in Paris, he said he was hopeful of helping Bangladesh overcome its current turbulence. He also made an appeal to students, political parties, and non-political people to shun violence. "If we take the path of violence everything will be destroyed. Please stay calm. Help those around you to stay calm," he said.

Former prime minister and BNP chairperson Khalida Zia also called for peace. "Not destruction, not revenge, not vengeance. Let's build a society based on love, peace and knowledge," she said in a video from a hospital where she is undergoing treatment. Zia, who was jailed in 2018 on corruption charges, was freed on Wednesday on Shahabuddin's order.

On Wednesday, the Indian government arranged a special flight to fly out non-essential staffers at the Indian High Commission in Dhaka and four other missions across Bangladesh, and their family members. "Return of non-essential staff and families from the Indian High Commission in Dhaka has taken place on a voluntary basis through a commercial flight," a source told his paper.

The ground situation in Bangladesh continued to be volatile with the properties of Awami League members being destroyed.

The Indira Gandhi Centre in Dhaka and the residence of popular folk singer Rahul Ananda were among those vandalised. There were also reports of targeted attacks on Hindus. P7, 9, 12

20% of organ seekers in state are techies

RISHITA KHANNA @ Bengaluru

MORE than 20% of the 8,419 people waiting for a single organ transplant in the state are IT professionals.

According to sources in the Health Department, many of these IT professionals are suffering from organ failure due to unmanaged and chronic stress, hypertension or high blood pressure.

A notable rise in organ failure has been noticed among IT professionals, corporate workers, and others with demanding work schedules, an official from the department said.

The official attributed the alarming trend to high stress levels, poor dietary habits, and irregular sleep patterns -- because of extended hours of sedentary work. These factors exacerbate health risks, leading to conditions that can result in organ failure.

The official said when someone is stressed all the time, their body produces stress hormones that can raise their heart rate and narrow blood vessels, leading to high BP. Stress can also lead to unhealthy habits like poor eating, not exercising, and reliance on smoking and drinking, which make high BP worse.

Long hours of sedentary work is a major contributor as extended sitting and minimal physical activity lead to cardiovascular problems, which heighten the risk of organ failure. High-stress work environments add to this, leading to chronic stress that can result in hypertension and diabetes — both significant risk factors for organ failure, the official said.

Finance Bill passed with 45 changes, including indexation tweaks

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman makes a point in the Lok Sabha | PTI

MONIKA YADAV @New Delhi

THE Lok Sabha on Wednesday passed the Finance Bill 2024 with 45 amendments, including easing of the long-term capital gains (LTCG) tax burden on real estate transactions.

With the amendment, individuals can calculate their LTCG tax under both the new regime (without indexation benefit) and the old regime (with indexation) and pay the lower tax. It means, people can choose to pay either 12.5% long-term capital gains tax without indexation or 20% with indexation benefit.

The House witnessed heated exchanges with the Opposition accusing the government of indulging in "tax terrorism", alleging that the Finance Bill should be renamed as "tax trap bill". Members from the Congress, TMC, and DMK said the Budget was so focussed on collecting more tax from the middle class that there was no measures to address the unemployment problem.

Opposition MPs staged a walkout after an amendment moved by RSP's N K Premchandran for removal of 18% GST on medical and life insurance premiums was not taken up.

In her response, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said states were levying taxes on premiums in pre-GST era.

CUT-OFF DATE IS JUL 23, 2024

For properties purchased after the cut-off date of July 23, 2024, only the new regime will apply. This means that buyers will face the LTCG tax at a rate of 12.5% without the benefit of indexation

RAISE IT IN GST COUNCIL: FM

FM Sitharaman said the GST Council is the right forum to take up any matter related to the GST and such an amendment could not be moved in Parliament as demanded by Opposition

PRR committee revamp: DyCM to steer project

GO issued to rename it Bengaluru Business Corridor to make it 'catchy, attract investors'

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

TO expedite the Rs 27,000-crore Peripheral Ring Road (PRR) project, proposed 19 years ago to decongest the city's traffic, the committee set up to implement it has been revamped.

Deputy Chief Minister and Bengaluru Development Minister D K Shivakumar will be the new chairman in place of the chief secretary. MLA N A Haris, who is also the BDA chairman, will be the vice-chairman of the committee, which has now been expanded to 12 members.

"The new committee was formally approved at a meeting headed by the chief secretary held two days ago. This meeting was held in the aftermath of a Government Order issued on July 23 regarding the new committee," said a source.

"The change of nomenclature for the 73.01-km project proposed by the Deputy CM months ago has also been approved in the meeting. It will henceforth be known as Bengaluru Business Corridor (BBC) to make it catchy and attract investors. The special purpose vehicle to implement the PRR will now be called Bengaluru Business Corridor (BBC) Company," said multiple sources privy to the meeting.

The BDA Commissioner, its Engineer Member, Town Planning Member, Finance Member, two Deputy Commissioners, the PWD Secretary, Secretary (Expenditure) of the State Finance Department, the BBMP Commissioner and MD of Karnataka Urban Infrastructure Development and Finance Corporation are the members, according to a reliable source.

"BDA Engineer Member H R Shantharajanna, who was transferred a fortnight ago after nearly four years at the post, and was replaced by former PWD chief engineer T D Nanjundappa, is likely to be recalled back to the BDA. His extensive knowledge and the work he has done to take the PRR forward are invaluable, and he will be given a crucial role to take the project forward," he added. Shantharajanna is yet to be posted elsewhere.

These proposals have been sent to the corporate office of the BBC Company in New Delhi, said another source. "After it is okayed by them, it will be placed before the state cabinet for consent," he said.

A proposal mooted earlier to split the project into three packages before floating the tender has also been okayed. Three tenders floated by the BDA hardly had any response due to the Rs 21,000-crore land compensation cost for the 2,560 acres acquired, he added.

"Apart from parting with developed land running to 50 metres of the proposed 100-metre road along its entire length, barring some spots, to the landlosers, we have also decided to hand over a portion of developed land to the concessionaires (successful bidders) who come forward to build the project. This is to incentivise them to bid for the PRR, which will only cost Rs 6,000 crore after the land compensation component is removed," he said.

ROUTEMAP

The PRR runs from Tumakuru Road (NH-48) via Doddaballapur Road, Ballari Road, Old Madras Road, Whitefield and ends at Hosur Road (NH-44).

A bird aviary will also be set up, and be promoted as a tourism destination. He added that after a legal battle, the forest department had recovered encroached land spread across 17.34 acres in Survey number 47 in Kothanur, KR Puram hobli. ENS

HC asks apartments to deploy lifeguards at swimming pools

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Wednesday gave the green signal to the trial court to try those who are managing the Prestige Lakeside Habitat Homeowners Association as charges of causing the death of a nine-year-old girl by slipping into a swimming pool in the apartment complex were found prima facie. The HC said members of every apartment association should protect the lives of infants in the apartment complex if it has a swimming pool by appointing lifeguards and adequate safety measures.

Justice M Nagaprasanna passed the order, permitting to try the accused- petitioners under Section 304 A (causing death by negligence) along with Section 149 of the IPC, in place of Section 304 (culpable homicide not amounting to murder) which is quashed now.

The judge said, "Since it is admitted that no lifeguard is even appointed to guard the pool at appropriate hours, nor the pool itself is guarded by placing safety measures around the pool, which the petitioners were obliged to provide and take care of, they will have to come out clean in a full-blown trial, not for the offence under Section 304 of the IPC, but for an offence punishable under Section 304A of the IPC, as prima facie, I find negligence on the part of the petitioners".

"If any apartment complex has a swimming pool and the said swimming pool is left unguarded without any lifeguard or without any safety measures taken as the case would be, those apartment complexes would be doing so at their own peril. Therefore, it is for the members of every apartment Association to protect the lives of infants, in the apartment complex, by bringing in such measures that would avoid any such mishap, so that innocent lives are not casually lost in the manner that has happened in the case at hand," it cautioned.

The Varthur police filed the charge sheet against petitioners -- Debashish Sinha, president of Prestige Lakeside Habitat Homeowners Association, and others, such as ST Suresh Babu, Santhosh Maharana, Govinda Mandal, Bikashkumar Paridh and Bhakta Charan Pradhan, based on the complaint filed by Rajesh Kumar Damerla, father of the nine-year-old girl.

Scholarship portal closes, medicos left in limbo

PURAN CHOUDHARY @Bengaluru

MAYUR Gangadhar, a third-year MBBS student at East Point College of Medical Sciences and Research Centre, was unable to secure a scholarship or fee reimbursement from the Backward Classes Welfare Department for the academic year 2023-24 as the State Scholarship Portal (SSP) closed even before the university results were announced. This is not just the case of Mayur, but thousands of others under the OBC category that have been left in limbo.

"Earlier, we could get a fee reimbursement of Rs 55,000 under the scholarship. This used to be very helpful in paying the educational debt that I had taken. This year, it is a big shock; going from Rs 55,000 to zero is a big setback as I wanted to save for my higher education. The government is not ready to extend the dates, no second-, third- or fourth-year student could avail the scholarship this year, in government or private college," Mayur said.

The SSP portal set the last date for applications as February 15. However, results for most of the colleges were announced only in the first week of March. According to data accessed by TNIE, for the academic year 2023-24, only 614 students were awarded scholarships out of 4,074 applications – the lowest in the last five years. For 2022-23, 7,712 students were covered, for 2021-22, 8,235 were given scholarships, in 2019-2020, 5,911 and in 2019-2020, 5,911 got fee reimbursement.

Pradeep BS, Joint Director, Backward Class Welfare Department, said all departments under state and central governments have to follow the financial year calendar (April to March), and any scholarship applications need to come before that. "We had set the deadline for all courses as February 15, however, a few universities and colleges missed the date. This is the purview of the universities and they should align their academic calendars to it."

When the issue was raised with Ramesh MK, Vice-Chancellor, Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences (RGUHS), under which most OBC category MBBS students lost their scholarships, he said the matter was discussed several times, but no resolution has been found. "The academic calendars are formulated at the university level for different courses such as MBBS, Dental, Pharmacy and more. It is difficult to streamline them." He added that they have requested the government to find a solution for such occurrences.

Meanwhile, BL Sujatha Rathod, director of the Directorate of Medical Education said the government should allow one-time measures for such students. "If not on the portal, hard files (physical applications) can be submitted by the students through universities and the grant allowed. The medical education department has to take up the matter on a war footing," Rathod said.

Biz bodies welcome 1 am deadline, want more security

MOHAMMED YACOOB
@Bengaluru

WELCOMING the government's order allowing business activities till 1 am, hotel associations, trade bodies and commercial establishments have called upon the administration to ramp up police patrolling to enhance security.

Extending the deadline for all kinds of business and trade will increase revenue collection and also ensure employment opportunities, noted Bruhat Bangalore Hotels Association President P C Rao, while urging an increase in police patrolling.

The order is now only effective in Bengaluru, and the association wants this to be applied across the state. "We were lobbying for 24x7 operation of hotels and other businesses. We welcome the 1 am deadline for all businesses under BBMP limits," Rao said.

Echoing the same, Commercial Street Association Secretary Mayank Rohatgi expressed happiness that the 1 am deadline was for all types of businesses. "There should also be an increase in security and police patrolling during the late hours," he said.

The Brigade Road Shops and Establishments Association also sought more police security in commercial areas. Its secretary, Suhail Yousuf, said, "Miscreants may take advantage of the late evening deadline and create nuisance. Police and corporations should keep a check on vulnerable areas."

08TH August : It's still time to follow Lunar movements. Personally, I regard this as a moment when we can all put the past behind us and get on with the future. Well, I know that's not always possible – or even desirable – but it often helps to focus our minds on what we can do to make life a little better over the coming period!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)

Aries is known as a cardinal fire sign, a description which indicates that it is the toughest in the zodiac. However, blunt attempts to impose your will over the next few weeks may bring nothing but banana skins. My advice would be to check and double check all details - and check again.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)

Travel plans, new horizons and all forms of communication are powerfully highlighted by the current historic positions of helpful Jupiter and eccentric Uranus. You may be searching for romantic ecstasy. The good news is that your hopes may be fulfilled, but not yet. Just wait a while longer!

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)

You should still keep domestic and family matters in the picture. If you can give more vent to your caring, compassionate qualities, the result will be much greater satisfaction. You see, you'll feel better if partners feel good. Selflessness pays!

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)

Seldom have you been in such a strong position to carve a new niche for yourself. Yet you still seem to be in a rather shy phase and may pass up a number of interesting opportunities or invitations. But, then, it's always been in your nature to pick and choose.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)

It may soon become apparent just why you have to stay put and accept certain limitations. Yet all your instincts will be urging you to break out and abandon those obligations which have now become so onerous; there's no point in carrying the cares of the world on your shoulders.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)

Now that Mercury and Mars are on a collision course, joint arrangements, business and legal matters must be handled with utmost caution and your usual discretion. Don't over-commit yourself, otherwise you'll strain to fulfil all your obligations.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)

You may as well accept the fact that certain people are bound to misunderstand you. Therefore, please try to make your intentions plain and express yourself as clearly and as directly as you can. Also, you must keep a close watch on financial developments.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

You must press ahead, secure your independence and put other people in their place. No amount of pressure or persuasion or any other emotional blackmail must be allowed to hold you back. I'm saying that partly because, for once, you seem to be able to get things done without getting in a flap.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)

Steering others through a difficult patch will both lift your spirits and foster a general mood of happiness and satisfaction. You must, though, allow partners to have their say, otherwise they'll end up blaming you for holding them back - whether rightly or wrongly.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)

As a Capricorn, you are the last person who needs to ask for information to spread your wings or cover a lot of new ground. However, it now seems likely that you won't get very far without help from close friends. Teamwork is undoubtedly the best way to take your plans forward.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)

There is a lot to be said for allowing things to cool down, especially at work. If you are doubtful about any personal project or relationship, then do not try to force the pace or insist that plans are put into effect prematurely. If you haven't got the details sorted out first, then you risk rejection.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)

You're on to a winner, but the real bone of contention at the moment seems to be a question of principle: are you really sure that you are prepared to risk a damaging argument over one of your unrealistic Piscean ideals? In other words, before you do anything else, you need to check your own motives.

Governor will be convinced as everything is legal, says CM; blames Oppn for pursuing MUDA case and trying to destabilise Congress govt in Karnataka

'Confident' Siddu says Guv will reject plea seeking his prosecution

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Wednesday said that he is confident that Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot will go by the advice of the Council of Ministers and reject the petition seeking sanction for prosecution against him in connection with the alleged site allotment scam in the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA).

Siddaramaiah, who was in Mysuru, said that he has not received any new notice from the Raj Bhavan. The CM said that the Governor will be "convinced" as everything is legal.

Siddaramaiah further reiterated that he did not influence anyone or misuse his office to get alternative sites for his wife. The State Government has advised the Governor to withdraw the show-cause notice sent to the chief minister, calling it unconstitutional.

Siddaramaiah said that the sites were allotted to his wife Parvathi during the previous BJP government based on an application submitted by her in 2021. "If I wanted to get the sites allotted, I would have gotten it done when I was in the office. Though my wife had submitted two applications seeking allotment of sites for acquiring 3.17 acres of land, I did not approve it when I was the CM between 2013 and 2018," he claimed.

Siddaramaiah said that it was wrong to compare the MUDA issue with former CM BS Yediyurappa's land denotification case. "In Yediyurappa's case (where prosecution sanction was granted in the past), money was taken through cheque, he (Yediyurappa) had denotified (land). What have I done? Are there any documents or orders or statements from me?" the CM asked.

On Karnataka Chief Secretary Shalini Rajneesh meeting the Governor, Siddaramaiah said that it was a courtesy call as she could not meet him after assuming office since he was away in Delhi. When asked why he was being repeatedly targeted by the Opposition, Siddaramaiah said that the BJP and JDS tried to destabilise his government in the past through 'Operation Lotus' and failed. "Though I have not done anything wrong, they have taken up the MUDA issue to destabilise the State Government that is catering to the poor and implementing the five guarantee schemes," Siddaramaiah said.

Siddaramaiah said that he will expose the previous BJP government and will present the facts related to scams during its rule.

'BSY SHOULD HAVE BEEN IN JAIL'

CM Siddaramaiah said that former CM BS Yediyurappa, who has been accused in a POCSO case, should have been in jail. When asked about Yediyurappa claiming that Siddaramaiah will resign before the Mysuru Chalo padayatra ends, he said that the former has no moral right to speak about him. "He is not in jail because of the court's mercy," he added.

If I wanted to get the sites allotted, I would have got it done when I was in the office. Though my wife had submitted two applications seeking allotment of sites for acquiring 3.17 acres, I did not approve it when I was the CM between 2013 and 2018

Ravi: CM should quit to ensure impartial probe

MYSURU: Senior BJP leader and MLC CT Ravi claimed that the ongoing NDA padayatra from Bengaluru to Mysuru "against the corrupt Congress was turning into a mass movement" and the Grand Old Party was perturbed by it. Ravi demanded the resignation of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah over the alleged scam in MUDA for an impartial inquiry. The MLC asserted that the allegations of corruption against Siddaramaiah were serious in nature, and the CM should assume moral responsibility and step down. The former minister reiterated the BJP's demand for a judicial inquiry by a sitting judge of the High Court or Supreme Court or the case to be handed over to the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI). Responding sharply to Siddaramaiah's claims of a spotless political career, Ravi cited instances such as the denotification of Arkavathy Layout in Bengaluru, the MUDA scam, and irregularities in the Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation Ltd as contradictions to the CM's claims. He alleged that there was a rate card for transfers in the current State Government.

Siddu won't resign, says Madhu

SHIVAMOGGA: School Education and Literacy Minister Madhu Bangarappa rubbished rumours of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah resigning. "BJP is trying to destabilise the State Government in unconstitutional ways by misusing the Governor's office," he said. Madhu said the Congress will deliver on its promises. "BJP and BY Vijayendra, and MP Raghavendra are not happy… they are jealous that Congress is helping the poor immeidately after it came to power," he added. Refuting the statement of BJP MLC CT Ravi that Siddaramaiah will resign, Madhu said that decision lies with the Congress high command and not with the MLC.

BJP, JDS workers enter into verbal duel after Preetham joins yatra

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

DIFFERENCES between BJP and JDS, which are on a padayatra from Bengaluru to Mysuru to protest against the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) scam, came to the fore when workers got into a wordy duel over BJP activists celebrating former MLA Preetham Gowda joining the march in Mandya on its fifth day.

Workers from both parties had turned up in good numbers for the padayatra, which is being led by JDS netas Nikhil Kumaraswamy and CS Puttaraju and BJP's R Ashoka, BY Vijayendra, Chalavadi Narayaswamy and others. There was commotion for some time when BJP workers carried Preetham, who is also a BJP general secretary, in a procession in the yatra.

BJP youth from Mandya and Hassan, draped in saffron shawls, surrounded Preetham and raised slogans like "Gowdara Gowda - Preetham Gowda" (Gowda of Gowdas) and called him Tiger of Hassan.

JDS workers were upset and objected to the sloganeering and got into a verbal altercation with BJP workers. They raised slogans praising party supremo HD Deve Gowda, party state president HD Kumaraswamy and Nikhil. At that point, leaders from both parties appealed to workers to shed their differences and put up a united show.

JDS workers were also not happy with Preetham's posters, welcoming him to the yatra, put up on prominent streets of Mandya.

His fans and other BJP workers made Preetham's procession viral on social media, with the claim that he has managed to finish off the Deve Gowda family in Hassan.

Preetham being part of the yatra had become a sour point for the alliance as Kumaraswamy had threatened to stay away, saying he did not want to share the dais with the ex-MLA for tarnishing the image of the Deve Gowda family. Kumaraswamy had also accused Preetham of distributing the pen drives, containing the alleged sexual exploits of Kumaraswamy's nephew and former Hassan MP Prajwal Revanna.

Preetham Gowda

Congress, not letting go off the opportunity to attack the opposition alliance, called the padayatra the final yatra. It said the march has been a conflict yatra from day one as both parties are fighting for their survival. In a post on X, the Karnataka Congress alleged that the fight is between Vokkaliga leaders and Vijayendra.

'Bickering yatra': Congress ridicules BJP-JDS march

The Congress ridiculed the BJP-JDS padayatra after differences between workers of both parties came to the fore in Mandya on Wednesday, and called it a foreword for breaking their alliance. JDS workers expressed displeasure over former BJP MLA Preetham Gowda taking part in the padayatra. BJP and JDS workers raised their voices, exchanged words and even pushed each other, and a video of the clashes went viral. Sharing the video, Karnataka Congress stated that the padayatra has been a "bickering yatra" from day one. "Leaders of both parties seem to be fighting to keep their party identity in this region, and fighting against each other," it stated. "On one side there is a fight between Vokkaliga leaders and BJP State President BY Vijayendra, on another there is Vijayendra vs BJP MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal. Now it has become JDS vs BJP.'' The Congress also shared photographs of a hearse van said to have been decorated with BJP and JDS buntings and used in the padayatra at Channapattana. ''Last journey of alliance partners," the Congress stated.

HDK says Shivakumar expert in making CDs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mandya

UNION Minister for Steel and Heavy Industries HD Kumaraswamy on Wednesday termed Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar an expert in making CDs and videos.

Addressing the public at Jayachamarajendra Wadiyar Circle in Mandya, the JDS state president said Shivakumar, who is also Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) president, has not given up the habit of making CDs.

"He played old videos of me, former CM BS Yediyurappa, and others during the Congress Janandolana rally in Mandya on Tuesday," he criticised.

If Shivakumar is so keen, he should also screen Siddaramaiah's old comments against Congress leaders, Kumaraswamy said.

Congress came to power in Karnataka promising clean governance, but is now immersed in corruption, he said. He hit out at Siddaramaiah for playing the backward community card.

The Union minister said he can get the Mekedatu balancing reservoir project cleared in five minutes, but Congress should convince its ally DMK in Tamil Nadu so that he can get the Prime Minister's approval.

Kumaraswamy said that the Cauvery catchment area has received copious rain and all reservoirs are brimming. "Also, 140 tmcft of water has flown to Mettur reservoir in Tamil Nadu. Surplus water is emptying into the sea. Unfortunately, Cauvery water has not reached the tail-end areas of Maddur, Malavalli and Koppa.

Kumaraswamy said AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge and MPs from Karnataka are not coming to the rescue of former PM HD Deve Gowda when DMK members protest when he raises the Cauvery water dispute in the Rajya Sabha.

ALAM PASHA WRITES TO GOVERNOR AGAINST TJ ABRAHAM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

INDUSTRIALIST Alam Pasha on Tuesday wrote a formal letter to Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot, urging him not to entertain social activist TJ Abraham's letter seeking sanction to prosecute Chief Minister Siddaramaiah in the MUDA site case.

Pasha requested the governor not to grant approval under Sections 17A and 19 of the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988, and Section 218 of the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita (BNSS) Act, for investigation into allegations of corruption against Siddaramaiah.

He raised questions about Abraham's credibility, saying that an FIR (No. 213/2023) was registered against him and a certain Sunil by Jeevan Bima Nagar police on August 1, 2023, under Sections 384 and 509 read with 34 of the IPC.

A complaint was filed by Sudha, a Gazetted Officer of Karnataka, alleging that Abraham had demanded Rs 1 crore to get her a posting in the CM's office. A sting operation by a TV channel revealed Abraham collecting Rs 25 lakh, which was broadcast across Karnataka, exposing his behaviour.

Abraham's reputation had also been tarnished by a Supreme Court judgment on July 3, 2017, which imposed a fine of Rs 25 lakh on him for filing a frivolous petition, deeming it abuse of public interest litigation.

"Abraham's request under Section 218 of the BNSS Act and Section 19 of the Prevention of Corruption Act is legally unsound. The disputed land in Survey number 464, Kesere village, is a civil matter requiring adjudication in a civil court, not under the Prevention of Corruption Act. Boundaries of the land have not been fixed, and until a proper survey is conducted, the dispute remains civil in nature," Pasha said. "Abraham's history of filing allegations against several former CMs of Karnataka, none of which have been upheld, further undermines his credibility.''

Given these circumstances, it is respectfully submitted that Your Excellency should not grant approval under Section 17A of the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988, or support the complaint filed against the current chief minister of Karnataka, he wrote.

Frisking, tight security as governor attends Tumkur varsity convocation

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI

THE 17th annual convocation of Tumkur University, chaired by Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot, went off smoothly under tight security on Wednesday as there was apprehension that supporters of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah could lay siege to the venue. Those attending the convocation were frisked to ensure that they were not carrying any black cloth.

The caution was because the governor has issued a show-cause notice to the CM in the Mysuru Urban Development Authority site allotment case.

In his speech, Gehlot said, "In ancient times, our country was 'Vishwaguru' in knowledge with Nalanda, Takshashila and Vikramashila universities attracting students from across the globe. Now, the Prime Minister has taken the initiative to reclaim that accolade and he inaugurated a new campus of Nalanda recently."

Former ISRO chairman AS Kiran Kumar delivered the convocation address. The governor conferred honorary doctorates to industrialist HG Chandrashekar, who is supplying copper raw material for the construction of Vande Bharat train coaches, and swimmer SC Naganandaswamy. The governor, who is the chancellor of state universities, and Higher Education Minister Dr MC Sudhakar travelled together from Bengaluru to Tumakuru and returned in the same car.

Conduct public speaking training for politicians: Suresh Kumar to KDA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

SENIOR Bharatiya Janata Party leader and former law minister Suresh Kumar urged the Kannada Development Authority (KDA) to conduct a workshop for netas on public speaking.

Suresh Kumar said that the standard of public interaction among politicians was coming down.

"Leaders are addressing each other singularly and using foul language. This is not sending out a right message to society, especially young generation. If netas accept this kind of communication or speeches where they can use foul language and (address) singularly, it will lead to a bad precedent," he shared on social media.

Further, Suresh Kumar said that public platform should not be a platform for such bad language. It is also applicable for Legislative Assembly and Council, he said. "Whatever might be our anger, there is a need to express it in a dignified way. It needs a better expression and it has to be done keeping society in mind,'' he added.

Fines, stern penal action key to curb dengue: HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

NOTING that stern penal action, including the imposition of a fine, may be the answer to check the menace of mosquito breeding which is the genesis of the dengue virus and spread of the disease, the Karnataka High Court on Wednesday said the State government and Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) should apprise it on preventive measures and other punitive steps which may be needed to curb dengue.

Pointing out that solid waste accumulation is also giving rise to breeding of mosquitoes and various kinds of viruses, leading to the spread of diseases, the court said an action plan should be chalked out to clear solid waste in the city, which is the responsibility of BBMP. A separate affidavit on measures taken for removal of waste, and to prevent accumulation of garbage has to be filed, the court ordered.

The order was passed by the division bench of Chief Justice NV Anjaria and Justice KV Aravind, after going through responses filed by the state government and BBMP in compliance with directions issued by court, after registration of a suo motu public interest petition on deaths due to dengue, based on media reports.

Noting that the authorities are not expected to be complacent, although primary reports suggest a marginal decline in the spread of the disease, which was disputed by a media report, the court said the affidavit has to be filed by the State and BBMP on August 28, the next date of hearing, with a list of ward-wise identified breeding spots, and preventive steps taken to eliminate such spots.

The court also observed that steps taken so far, by BBMP in particular, are on the curative front and not sufficiently on the preventive front. The infrastructure shown is hopefully adequate to meet the challenge against dengue, and prevention is better than cure, the court added.

Senior advocate Sriranga, appearing on behalf of the petitioner, submitted details of measures to be taken to check the spread of disease, and amicus curiae KN Phanindra assisted the court. Advocate-General Shashikiran Shetty and BBMP counsel submitted data on the number of samples tested, surveys conducted, hotspots and active cases.

High Court stays notification on compulsory rural service for doctors

BENGALURU: The High Court of Karnataka has stayed a notification issued by the state government for doctors to reg ister themselves and participate in counselling for compulsory rural service. Justice SR Krishna Kumar passed the interim order staying the notification issued on July 12, 2024. The order was passed on a petition by Dr Suvetha P and 334 others against the notification. They challenged it on the grounds that the amendment brought to the rules governing rural service to exempt certain meritorious students from rural service is discriminatory in nature. The petitioners stated that they completed their PG medical courses in August 2023 prior to the implementation of Karnataka Compulsory Service by Candidates Completed Medical Courses (Amendment) Act, 2023, exempting certain meritorious students from rural service. They pointed out that the notification based on the amendment is illegal, arbitrary and without jurisdiction or authority of law.The court adjourned the case to August 27.

Flu cases surge in city, though it's off-season

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

DOCTORS in the city warn of an unseasonal rise in respiratory illnesses, particularly an early outbreak of influenza, as private hospitals report a significant surge in cases. Over the past two weeks, most hospitals have recorded more than 20 cases each, with several requiring ICU care.

Doctors highlighted that to prevent further spread of illness, individuals who are sick should avoid going to work or school, and those exhibiting symptoms should wear masks to protect others.

Dr Srikanta JT, Consultant - Paediatric Interventional Pulmonology at Aster CMI Hospital, cautioned that the current weather has created an environment conducive to virus proliferation. There has been a considerable increase in influenza cases among children, with approximately 25 kids treated in the past two weeks, with some even requiring hospitalization, he said.

Dr Srikanta also highlighted the common symptoms to watch for, including fever, chills, body ache, dry cough, headache, weakness, eye pain, throat pain and a stuffy nose.

Vaccination is crucial to reduce the severity of influenza. The influenza vaccine covers various strains and helps prevent severe disease, he said, adding that antiviral treatment may be prescribed if the H1N1 influenza type A is diagnosed early.

Dr Srikanta stressed that immediate medical help should be sought if one develops chest tightness, difficulty in breathing, chest pain, dizziness, severe muscle pain, or if underlying conditions like diabetes, asthma or seizures worsen.

Dr Vivek Anand Padegal, Director of Pulmonology at Fortis Hospital, mentioned that in some cases, patients are presenting with pneumonia, apart from symptoms such as fever, cough, body pain and sore throat.

Contrary to previous observations, Dr Padegal mentioned that while individuals of all age groups are being hospitalized, the majority are elderly, with some requiring intensive care and ventilation.

Currently, most of the patients have been showing significant improvements within 4 to 5 days. Early detection is crucial, as it allows for timely administration of antiviral treatment, he added.

Health min for checks on low-quality medicines

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

HEALTH Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao called for immediate and stringent measures to address the poor quality of medicines being distributed in the state. During a meeting with Drug Control Department officials on Wednesday, Gundu Rao expressed grave concerns over the department's performance and the adverse impact of substandard medications on public health.

He criticized the indiscriminate supply of medicines to people's homes and the lack of oversight by the Drug Control Department. He emphasized that the primary objective of the department is to safeguard public health and urged officials to monitor medicine quality more closely.

"The authorities must provide a detailed report on the measures being taken to ensure drug quality," he said. He further instructed the State Drug Controller to prepare a comprehensive action plan, report on the number of pharmacies inspected, and the actions taken against wrong drug manufacturers.

Health Department's Principal Secretary Harsh Gupta questioned the effectiveness of the department's actions, and mentioned that if officials were unable to ensure quality control, the drug control department's operations might need reevaluation, and warned that half-measures would not be tolerated.

Varsity develops software to identify, predict jaw cysts

ENS @ Bengaluru

IN a bid to improve early detection and treatment outcomes for jaw cysts – rare growths or lesions that develop in the jawbone or the soft tissues in the mouth and face, experts from Ramaiah University developed cutting-edge software using deep learning technology to diagnose and predict jaw cysts.

The project was headed by specialists in oral pathology and AI. Jaw cysts, though rare and usually non-cancerous, can be aggressive, causing significant displacement or destruction of the jawbone and surrounding tissues.

These growths often originate from cells involved in tooth development, with the most common types being odontogenic keratocyst, radicular cysts, and dentigerous cysts. Odontogenic keratocysts, non-cancerous growths that frequently develop from leftover tooth tissue, have a recurrence rate of 12–58.3% after treatment.

Jaw cysts typically occur around the back teeth and are known for their rapid growth and potential to spread into nearby bone and tissues.

By studying biopsy samples, the research team identified certain characteristics that can predict the likelihood of cyst recurrence, enabling dentists to make personalized treatment decisions. The software uses these findings to automatically diagnose and predict the behaviour of jaw cysts, offering a powerful tool for early intervention.

BRIDGE ACROSS KALI COLLAPSES, TRUCK PLUNGES INTO RIVER

Driver injured; Poor construction blamed

SUBHASH CHANDRA NS @Karwar

THE old Kali bridge that connects Goa with Karwar on National Highway 66 via Sadashivgad collapsed early on Wednesday morning. A truck plying on the bridge fell into the river, leaving the driver injured. The bridge collapse is said to be because of poor quality of construction and not due to heavy rain or floods. It was built in 1982, and 42 years is not a long time for a bridge, experts said.

The incident occurred around 1 am. "The night beat policemen from the Chittakula police station noticed it and alerted the control room. We found a truck in the river and the injured driver sitting on top, screaming for help. Local fishermen rescued him. He has been identified as Bala Murugan of Dharmapuri in Tamil Nadu, and has been admitted to the Karwar Institute of Medical Sciences," said Uttara Kannada SP Narayan.

District in-charge minister Mankal Vaidya visited the spot. He later met the injured driver and presented him a cheque of Rs 50,000.

Deputy Commissioner Lakshmi Priya, who too visited the spot, banned vehicular movement on the other new bridge till the National Highways Authority of India issues a safety certificate.

However, towards evening, light traffic was allowed on the new bridge, but heavy vehicles were told to take an alternative route.

Rescuers attend to truck driver Bala Murugan, who survived the bridge collapse in Karwar on Wednesday

NDRF and SDRF teams that have been dispatched are expected to ascertain if there are any other vehicles that have fallen into the river. It was bad news for people from Karwar and Sadashivgad and for motorists using NH 66 that connects Goa and Maharashtra with Karnataka and up to Kerala and Kanyakumari.

Residents of Dandeli, Haliyal, Joida, Sadashivgad, Majali and other villages around the bridge were stranded. The collapse will also affect hundreds of people who go to Goa every day to earn their livelihood.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah called up the DC, and directed her to check the health of all bridges in the district.

8 medicos reach B'gavi after fleeing Bangladesh

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

A GROUP of 13 students, eight from Belagavi district, who were pursuing MBBS in Bangladesh and found themselves trapped in the neighbouring country through its ongoing civil unrest, have returned home to safety. The students' return was facilitated by the Indian High Commission.

It may be recalled here that the parents of the stranded students had expressed concern and sought help from Belagavi MP Jagdish Shettar and the district administration as tensions escalated in Bangladesh. Taking immediate action, Belagavi Deputy Commissioner Mohammad Roshan provided information about the students to the Centre, which helped in securing their safe exit from Bangladesh.

Roshan said the students crossed the Indo-Bangladesh border and were provided logistical assistance, enabling them to reach their homes.

"The students were studying medicine in Bangladesh. They had called me last week, stating that they wanted help in returning to our country. We booked train tickets and arranged logistics for them to return home," Roshan said, adding that as many as 13 students had sought help, of whom eight are from Belagavi. "We helped all of them," he stated.

Describing the tense situation, a student, who was among the returnees, said, "About a week ago, we were told to stay inside our college hostel as rioters destroyed a mobile tower. The situation worsened and we realised it was time to return home. We were able to reach Belagavi on August 4." He said if they had stayed longer, it would have been very difficult for them. Another student said, "It was a relief to get out of Bangladesh. The situation is terrible and unsafe, and everyone is mentally exhausted."

'CRISIS OPENS DOORS TO INDIA'S TEXTILE SECTOR'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE situation in Bangladesh has opened an opportunity for India in the export of textile products, and the Karnataka government will take necessary steps to utilise the same, said Textiles Minister Shivanand Patil.

Speaking at the inauguration of the 10th National Handloom Day programme held here on Wednesday, Patil said the developments in Bangladesh have adversely affected the textile sector there. He, however, added that it will be beneficial if the same sector in the state takes advantage of this opportunity.

Stating that the number of handlooms are decreasing by the day, Patil urged the weaver community to adopt science and technology, and observed that if the shift is not made now, it will hinder progress. The minister said if the weavers wish to upgrade to scientific weaving, necessary assistance will be provided by the government.

Activists protest razing of temple for mall

ENS @ Tumakuru

PRO-HINDU organisations here raised the issue of a private construction company building a mall under PPP model, at the erstwhile Siddhi Vinayaka Market in the heart of the city. The mall will come up on government land, and a Ganesha temple standing here is being razed.

Led by GK Srinivas of the RSS and Manju Bhargav of Bajrang Dal, vendors staged protests, demanding that the temple be left intact, and vendors be accommodated in shops in the new mall.

RS Construction from Mangaluru, owned by PK Mohammed, MA Nazeer and Mohammed Ibrahim, won the bid to construct the mall. The previous BJP government had stalled the project, but the Congress government gave the go-ahead, alleged pro-Hindu organisations. "Contractors of RS Construction won the bid legally to take up the project under the Smart City project in 2019. The land belongs to the city corporation and APMC, and the profit will be shared between the two government agencies. There was a provision for construction of the temple as part of the project," Tumakuru City Corporation Commissioner Ashwija BV said. The project will be implemented on the PPP model, and the company has entered into an agreement for a 30-year lease.

Groom murders bride hours after wedding

V VELAYUDHAM @ KGF

THE bliss of marriage lasted for only a few hours for this couple. Naveen (27), a resident of Santuru village of Kuppam in AP, married Likhita Sri (20), a resident of Bainepalli in KGF, on Wednesday morning.

However, the joy of marriage ended when the newly-weds picked up an argument soon after the nuptials. The altercation turned ugly when in a fit of rage, Naveen allegedly stabbed his wife, killing her. Later, he attempted suicide using the same weapon. His condition is critical.

KGF SP KM Shantharaju said the accused is a textile merchant. He added that preliminary investigations revealed it was a love marriage, which was solemnised at the house of Monika, Naveen's sister.

The SP said the couple, after tying the knot, visited Naveen's relative's house, where they got into an argument. Naveen attacked Likhita and allegedly stabbed her. She fell, bleeding on the floor. Upon seeing Likhita's lifeless body, Naveen attempted suicide with the same weapon. Meanwhile, Pavithra, the relative, cried for help, attracting villagers to the scene.

Andersonpet police have registered a case and begun an investigation.

The exact reason for the murder is being probed, Shantharaju informed.

WELCOME MOVE TO BRING BACK INDEXATION WHEN TAXING PROPERTY

Heeding the growing chorus of resentment on long term capital gains (LTCG) tax on unlisted assets, particularly property, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman has rightly decided to amend the Budget proposals to provide a flexible option for calculating LTCG tax. For assets such as land or buildings acquired before July 23, taxpayers can now choose between the new and old regimes based on the benefits. Under the new proposals, tax on capital gains was reduced to 12.5 percent from 20 percent; but the adjustment for inflation—known as indexation—was done away with for properties bought after 2001. Indexation allowed capital gains to be calculated lower by deducting inflation's impact on the price since the time the property was bought. This translated into 20 percent higher tax on properties purchased before 2010.

Taxpayers can now continue with the old regime of indexation, but at the higher 20 percent rate. This will not only save them from a higher tax outgo on older properties, but will also allow more flexibility to those opting for exemption under Section 54 by investing their capital gains in another residential unit. The government revisiting its proposals was also perhaps influenced by reports that a higher LTCG tax would slow down sales in the secondary housing market.

There is a mindset that looks at property sales as a gold pit waiting to be mined. The investment stampede we saw in real estate prior to the Lehman Brothers crash in 2008 is long over. As an asset class, returns on property investments are lukewarm and lower than on equity, gold and other asset classes. Property holdings are usually of a large ticket size, making them fairly illiquid. Over the years, state governments have heaped huge stamp duty and registration charges on property sales, in some cases touching 9-10 percent of the transaction value. These moves have discouraged deals, impacting tax revenues in the long term. If we exclude builders' primary sales, secondary sales by individuals—which is a huge market—are largely a realignment of wealth and should not count as windfall gains. Property assets are often consolidated and sold when joint families break up, or when individual owners sell one unit to buy a larger home as they move up the income chain. So the government needs to have an open mind before taxing property gains.

AWARENESS CRUCIAL TO AVOID LETHAL INFECTION

A rare 'brain-eating' amoebic infection is spreading in Kerala. Amoebic meningoencephalitis, which has a 97 percent fatality rate, has claimed four lives so far from the 15 cases reported in the state. What is more alarming is that the disease has spread from northern Kerala to Thiruvananthapuram in the south. The first death was of a five-year-old girl from Malappuram and the second one of a 13-year-old girl from Kannur; the latest is of a 28-year-old man in the state capital.

It is a rare but severe brain infection caused by an amoeba that lives in warm freshwater such as lakes and rivers. The amoebas can enter the central nervous system through the nose when people swim in infected water. Once they reach the brain, they cause inflammation and tissue destruction, which usually progress to death. However, the infection is not passed between humans. In the early stages, the disease shows typical meningitic symptoms such as fever, headache, stiff neck and nausea. Later symptoms include confusion, loss of balance and hallucinations. Death usually occurs between one and 18 days after the first symptoms. There is no specific treatment protocol for the disease because of its rarity; hence, the mortality rate is very high.

Bathing in stagnant water is a common hazard for several types of infection. This amoeba can also live in hot springs or warm water discharged from industrial plants, poorly-maintained swimming pools with minimal or no disinfection. The state government has issued health advisories urging residents to avoid swimming in freshwater bodies and to maintain strict personal hygiene. Additional resources are being provided to the health department to manage the crisis and hospitals are being equipped to handle the influx of patients. What is more important is to run awareness campaigns to educate the public regarding the risks and preventive measures. It is also important to ensure that water parks and swimming pools are properly disinfected. In a state with plenty of public and private water bodies, it is quite common for people to take a dip. Hence the need for intensified awareness programmes. It's crucial for the public to follow safety guidelines because once contracted, the infection is almost impossible to beat.

QUICK TAKE

LITTLE BRITAIN TAKES IT BACK

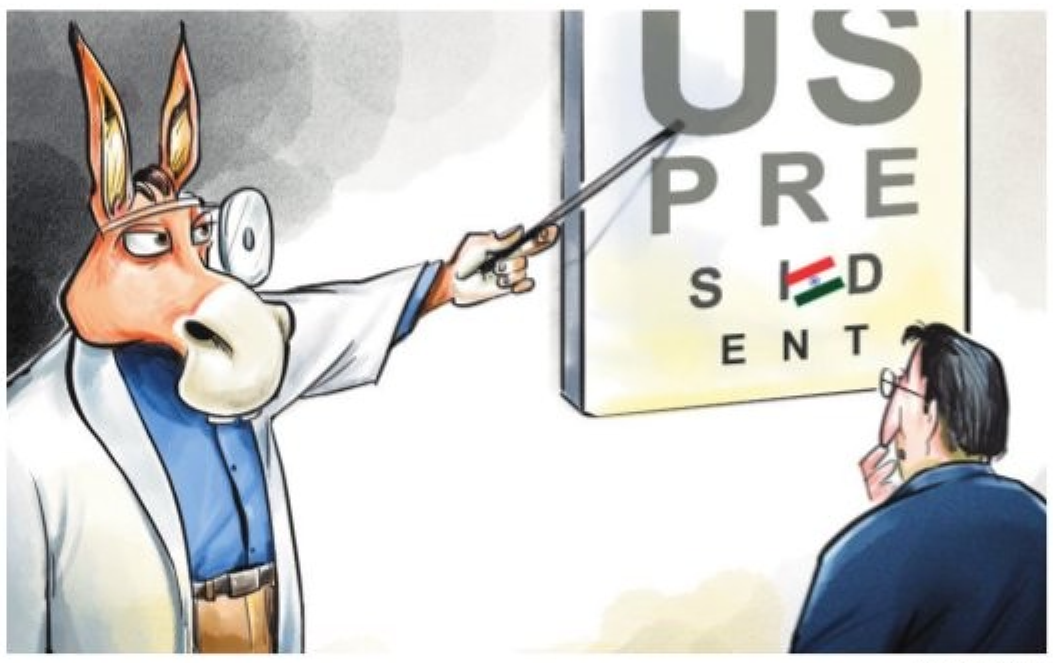
BRITISH PM Keir Starmer is fighting a far-right fire a month after taking charge. Rioting and looting spread across the UK after three young girls were fatally stabbed in a knifing spree outside Liverpool. Though the police arrested a British-born teenager of Rwandan origin without any link to Islam, far right leaders started spewing anti-immigrant, Islamophobic hate online. Racism is blind. Of the 7,756 cases of religious hate crimes recorded in England and Wales in 2022-23, 3,400 were against Muslims and 286 against Hindus. The white rioters are not "taking the country back", as they claim, from anyone else—they are only taking it back to an anarchic dark age.

American party conventions can be raucous events. They can also be a place for oracular utterings. However, this season has a different flavour to it

UNCONVENTIONAL ENCOUNTERS AT U.S. CONVENTIONS

K P NAYAR

Strategic analyst



MANDAR PARDIKAR

OF the 10 presidential nominating conventions in the US that I covered as a foreign correspondent from the year 2000 onwards, the most exciting were the Republican National Convention in New York to re-elect President George W Bush and the Democratic National Convention in Denver that paved the way for the election of America's first black president, Barack Obama.

The 2004 convention in New York was more memorable for its perversions, which became a bigger talking point than what went on in Madison Square Garden, where Bush, at the zenith of his popularity after the US invasion of Iraq, was easily renominated.

Four years later, the Denver convention is remembered by most political reporters as the culmination of the hopes of the American people in the devastating aftermath of the financial meltdown of 2007-08. Revulsion in the US over lies by Bush about Iraq's non-existent weapons of mass destruction as a pretext for invading Iraq made the mass gathering in Denver more of a movement than any predictable political meeting.

I learned more about the innards of the American political facade during the New York convention than at any other single event while reporting from the US, which is unquestionably the most open system in the world for journalists.

As a frequent visitor to New York to cover the United Nations, what I noticed on the eve of that Republican convention was a visibly steep increase in the number of escorts in the lobbies and bars of five-star hotels in Manhattan. Well before the convention opened, The New York Daily News ran an article predicting that demand for escorts would be at an all-time high when the Grand Old Party, a moniker for the Republicans, would be in town. As it turned out, the Daily News story was only a teaser. The reality far outstripped the tabloid's prediction.

The GOP convention mirrored the utterly boring persona of President Bush. Even more so, of the uncharismatic disposition of Vice President Dick Cheney, who was often referred to as the "real US President" during that period. So, like the 'silly season' that newspapers in the West dread, the US media went into in-depth reporting of a different kind at the Republican convention. A gem of the week came from Mark Morford, a columnist of the well-respected San Francisco Chronicle. His humour column is credited with having coined a delightful pun on the Iraq war's purported weapons of mass destruction. Morford's imaginary conversation between two ladies dressing up for an evening quotes one of them as saying that her Republican customers were weapons of destruction, just with a letter off mass. For the other lady, the convention was all about launching missiles of a different sort.

The Denver convention did not merely nominate Obama as the Democratic candidate for the 2008 election. It was the coronation of Barack and Michelle Obama by the party faithful. The wild celebrations during and following Obama's nomination spilled over from the Pepsi Center convention site to the Invesco Field football stadium for the acceptance speech, and then to Denver city. Such revelry added a new term to America's political lexicon—Obamarama, like the Kennedy presidency came to be known as the Camelot.

It was the only "open convention" in US political history because of its mass participation beyond the ritual balloons, ribbons, tickers and confetti falling from the ceiling on the assembled delegates. A capacity crowd of 85,000 filled the Invesco stadium to hear Obama. It was a record for any presidential acceptance speech in US history.

For the opening of Washington's newest museum, the National Museum of African American History and Culture, a special film was made eight years ago. It is now one of the museum's popular exhibits and has the title 'August 28: A Day in the Life of a People'. Several landmark events in US black history, all of which took place on August 28, are featured in this film. One of them is Obama's presidential nomination in Denver.

It is now entirely forgotten that in Denver, Howard Dean, the then chairman of the Democratic National Committee, predicted that a person of Indian origin would one day become US president. He did not have Kamala Harris in mind. She was then just the district attorney of San Francisco, not even a state-level official in California. But she had already hitched herself to the Obama bandwagon. Harris was the first elected official in California to endorse Obama in 2008. That decision was the key to her future successes. Harris has never looked back.

On Day 2 of the convention, Dean came to the hotel where the Indian media was staying and told us, about 10 correspondents, that Indian Americans "are leading the charge to strengthen our party, elect our candidates and ensure that we build a government that lives up to the ideals that inspired generations of Indian immigrants to make America their home". That was probably when the Democrats publicly acknowledged for the first time the growing profile of ethnic Indians in US politics.

Later that evening, at a side event organised by the Indian American Leadership Initiative, Dean went further. He said that convention delegates in Denver may "include the first Indian American who will manage a presidential campaign. Perhaps they include a future Democratic president of the US". Recalling Dean's speech now, when this is very likely to happen come January, is like having listened to an oracle.

The Republican National Convention in Milwaukee last month was unlike any other. To parody Abraham Lincoln's description of democracy, it was a convention of one family, by one family, for one family. The assassination attempt on Donald Trump also created an atmosphere in Milwaukee that was bizarre.

Historically, Chicago has been a favourite location of Democrats for their nominating conventions. During this August 19-22, the party will again meet in the city to nominate Harris as their candidate. At the time of writing this, very little is known about this gathering because of the eleventh-hour candidate change. Enthusiasm will not be lacking, which would have been the case had Joe Biden been the nominee.

BRIDGING EDUCATIONAL GAPS WITH INTERNSHIPS

JOHN J KENNEDY

Professor and Dean, CHRIST University, Bengaluru

RECENT media reports on student placements at the Indian Institutes of Technology (IITs) paint a grim picture. Nearly 8,000 students across the 23 IIT campuses are struggling to secure employment, prompting the institutes to seek help from their alumni networks. Even those who have found jobs are dissatisfied with the packages. The commonly cited reasons for this bleak placement season include economic challenges, technological advancements, and companies adopting a cautious hiring approach.

The predicament of students graduating from India's creme de la creme institutions grappling to find a foothold in the job market is disturbing. This situation raises questions about our quality of education. If IIT students lack the essential skills to succeed, what can we anticipate from other institutions in the country, especially those with restricted resources and infrastructure?

Our education system primarily focuses on classroom interactions, premised on the belief that colleges and universities are the primary spaces for knowledge acquisition. This traditional notion remains deeply ingrained in higher education. It is disheartening that even postgraduate students are forced to attend lectures throughout the day, leaving little room for hands-on training.

Even institutions that mandate internships often limit them to one or two months, which is insufficient to gain any meaningful experience. Higher education institutions must explore ways to equip students with the necessary skill sets as they graduate. Collaboration with industry and making internship programmes rigorous with provisions for attaining skills that match industry requirements are immediate needs.

Internships are a crucial tool for enhancing employability. Ideally, a well-designed internship should significantly drive employability outcomes. They offer direct interaction with professionals and the opportunity to build a strong network.

Since many companies prefer applicants with work experience and practical knowledge, internships are essential. They not only help students gain experience but also allow companies to recruit talent. Additionally, companies can benefit from innovative ideas young interns may bring.

A robust internship programme must consider three critical factors: duration, motivational practices to enhance the experience, and degree of formalisation. According to a study by Gomez et al published in 2023, these factors significantly influence interns' perceptions of employability.

The duration of an internship is a crucial aspect. Very short internships may not provide sufficient time for meaningful learning. While there is no consensus on the ideal duration, it is generally accepted that a 4–6-month internship allows interns to acquire substantial knowledge, skills and work experience. However, many business schools prefer a semester-long internship, as it provides the necessary skills acquisition and boosts interns' confidence in securing full-time positions.

PTI

The predicament of students graduating from crème de la crème institutions struggling to find a foothold in the job market is disturbing. The latest budget has proposals for internship schemes. But institutions, too, must explore ways to make internships more robust to equip students better

The real-world experience gained in companies is the second crucial factor. Research indicates that internships providing higher autonomy enhance interns' abilities and self-esteem. Interns' motivation increases when they are assigned a tutor who guides their work, offers mentorship and feedback, provides financial assistance, and ensures good working conditions. Some studies have shown that the developmental value of an internship is perceived to be higher in paid internships.

Thirdly, the degree of formalisation significantly aids interns in understanding job expectations and goals. Research indicates that well-structured and carefully planned placements help avoid conflicts and distractions.

Students should focus on areas that offer greater employability prospects when planning internships. Additionally, colleges and universities should identify fields that enhance employability and be selective in their partner companies. They should negotiate for relevant work experiences to better prepare students for the workplace.

According to the India Employment Report 2024, the proportion of young people with secondary or higher education among the unemployed has nearly doubled, rising from 35.2 percent in 2000 to 65.7 percent in 2022. Raghuram Rajan, the former governor of the Reserve Bank of India, highlighted in a recent interview that India faces a significant job shortage. He lamented that PhD graduates are applying for peon jobs and stressed the need to create a more employable workforce.

Against this backdrop, robust internships offering substantial learning and networking opportunities with industry must become a common practice in educational institutions. Internships should be well-structured, providing students real-world experience, hands-on training, and valuable industry insights. By immersing students in professional environments, internships can connect theoretical knowledge with practical application, enhancing graduates' employability. By working hand in hand, students, educational institutions, industry partners and the government can create a robust internship ecosystem that enhances employability, addresses the current job market challenges, and contributes to the country's overall economic growth.

Violent flashback

Ref: Nobel face to heal riot-torn nation (Aug 7). It is clear from the incidents of the past three days that radical Islamist groups in Bangladesh want to turn a new leaf for their country that is very different from what it witnessed in 1971. The mad killing spree the country is seeing is not good for India as Hindus are being butchered and their places of worship destroyed.

Students' revolution

Students have created history in Bangladesh. However, they should desist from further violence to save the nation from being plunged into more chaos. It is good that Nobel Laureate Muhammad Yunus conceded to the demand raised by students. India should adopt a proactive approach to help our neighbour restore normalcy as soon as the interim government takes the reins.

Bangladesh lesson

Ref: Lessons for India from upheaval in Bangladesh (Aug 7). Bangladesh's critical situation is a wake-up call for India. Our concerns will increase due to the increase in infiltrators, the amount of capital invested in Bangladesh and the disruption of trade transactions. The border may come under threat. So India must take appropriate steps.

Historic iconoclasm

When seeing the destruction of statues of Sheikh Mujibur Rahman by protesters in Bangladesh, we recall the Taliban destroying Buddha statues in Afghanistan in 2001. The statues are an evidence of history. Protesters should be educated about their importance.

Neighbour's stability

Atal Bihari Vajpayee's words, "You change your friends, but not your neighbours," seems to resonate with our foreign ministry, which is urging Bangladesh to take essential steps to curb instability in the nation. Dedicated efforts are needed to safeguard our diaspora, security and development.

Women's agency

Ref: A budget boost for more women at work (Aug 7). This year's budget shows the government's commitment to women's empowerment. Educated women have greater agency and decision-making powers, and are better equipped to enter the workforce and contribute to economic growth. To unlock women's potential, India must embed gender-responsive budgeting across ministries.

‘Hasina can stay as long as she wants’

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

FORMER Bangladesh prime minister Sheikh Hasina, who fled the country after student protestors stormed her residence, continues to stay in India, where she is being hosted as a guest.

According to a source, Hasina has been accommodated in a safe house in India, where she can stay as long as she wants. There are speculations about where she could possibly go from here, but there is no confirmation on when or where she would, as she is safe in India for the moment.

Angry student agitators had stormed into Hasina's official residence in Gono Bhaban around 3 pm on August 5, ending her 15 years in power. Widespread arson and looting have ensued in the country ever since.

The ground situation in the country continues to be volatile, with houses and businesses of major Awami League members, who are all on the run, have been burnt down.

Meanwhile, the Bangladeshi Army chief Waker-Uz-Zaman on Wednesday announced that an interim government, led by Nobel laureate Professor Muhammad Yunus, will be sworn in on Thursday.

Dr Yunus, along with six others, were sentenced to jail on January 1 this year for labour law violations, but has been acquitted now. The Labour Law Appellate Tribunal, which delivered the verdict on Wednesday, fined Dr Yunus Taka 30,000 under two different sections.

Former prime minister and Bangladesh National Party chairperson Khalida Zia, who was jailed since 2018, was also released on Tuesday. In her first public speech after her acquittal, Zia urged for peace.

"Not destruction, not revenge, not vengeance. Let's build a society based on love, peace and knowledge," said Zia via a video from the hospital where she is undergoing treatment.

In the meantime, the ground situation in Bangladesh continues to be volatile, with reports of arson and looting. The Indira Gandhi Centre in Dhaka is vandalised and looted, said reports.

"Last time something like this happened was when Chief Justice Latifur Rahman was the caretaker of the government. After the parliamentary elections concluded in October 2001, for 10 days there were arson and looting, and minorities were attacked. This time it is worse. Not just are the minorities being attacked, but there also seems to be no control in sight," Professor Nazmul Ahsan Kalimullah told this newspaper.

With police on strike (as many have been killed) and Army back to the barracks, students are now manning traffic and also cleaning up roads.

Love & peace to build Bangladesh: Zia

A day after her release from house arrest, Bangladesh's former prime minister and BNP chairperson Khaleda Zia on Wednesday thanked the people for their "struggle to make possible the impossible" and said it is not anger or revenge, but love and peace that will rebuild the nation. In her first public speech since 2018, delivered via video link at the Bangladesh National Party (BNP) rally in Nayapaltan, the 79-year-old appealed for calm. She thanked people as they fought and prayed for her to be released from imprisonment.

India-Bangla trade resumes partially

Trade between India and Bangladesh, which has halted since August 5, resumed partially through several land ports in West Bengal on Wednesday, officials said. Trade, mostly of perishable goods, resumed in land ports at Hili, Changrabandha, Mahadipur, Fulbari, and Gojadanga. Export from Petrapole, South Asia's largest land port in West Bengal's North 24 Parganas district, is expected to commence on Thursday, officials said after a meeting between the land port authorities of the two countries.

Yunus appeals to ‘brave students’ for peace, order

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

NOBEL laureate and the head of the caretaker government in Bangladesh, Muhammad Yunus, is flying back to his country on Thursday. A day before his departure from Paris, he asked the students in Bangladesh to shun violence and remain calm.

In his first public statement after accepting to head the caretaker government, which was published by the Yunus Centre on Wednesday, Prof Yunus addressed the students and said, "I congratulate the brave students who took the lead in making our Second Victory Day possible and to the people for giving your total support to them. Let us make the best use of our new victory. Let us not let this slip away because of our mistakes. I fervently appeal to everybody to stay calm. Please refrain from all kinds of violence. I appeal to all students, members of all political parties and non-political parties to stay calm. This is our beautiful country with lots of exciting possibilities. We must protect and make it a wonderful country for us and for our future generations," he said.

> Our youth is ready to give this leadership in creating a new world. Let us not miss the chance by going into any senseless violence.
> Muhammad Yunus

"Our youth is ready to give this leadership in creating a new world. Let us not miss the chance by going into any senseless violence. Violence is our enemy. Please don't create more enemies. Be calm and get ready to build the country. If we take the path of violence, everything will be destroyed. Please stay calm. Help those around you to stay calm," he added.

The 84-year-old was appointed a day after former prime minister Shaikh Hasina resigned and fled the country following weeks of deadly student protests that led to her ouster. Yunus was in Paris with the country's Olympic contingent.

Threat to food security with depletion of groundwater in North India: Study

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

A study has found that consistent weaker summer monsoons and warmer winters — the fallout of global warming-induced climate change — have led to a massive loss of groundwater in North India in last two decades.

The groundwater depletion rate of 1.5 cm a year resulted in a net loss of 450 km3 of the groundwater during 2002-2021. This subsequently increased the irrigation water demands and reduced the groundwater recharge.

The trend may be a significant threat to India's food security as groundwater plays a pivotal role in North India's food production and the country's food security for more than one billion people. For instance, current cropping intensity could decline by 68% due to groundwater depletion.

A batch of Indian scientists led by Dr Vimal Mishra from IIT Gandhinagar conducted research "Summer Monsoon Drying Accelerates India's Groundwater Depletion Under Climate Change" and examined the role of summer monsoon drying and winter warming on groundwater storage in India. The study was published in Advancing Earth and Space Sciences.

According to the study, summer monsoon precipitation has significantly declined by around 8%, while winters have become warmer in north India from 1951 to 2021.

Analysis shows that if the warm winter rises by (+1°C), the irrigation water demand rises by about 9% regardless of whether the summer monsoon is normal, dry or wet.

"Summer monsoon drying coupled with winter warming climate will increase irrigation water demands and reduce groundwater recharge," said Mishra. "This necessitates the implementation of groundwater sustainability measures to ensure future agricultural production during monsoon droughts," he further adds.

The study used in-situ observations, satellite data, and a hydrological model that considers the role of irrigation and groundwater pumping.

"We show that summer monsoon drying and winter warming accelerate groundwater depletion in north India during the observed climate, which will continue in the projected future climate," said Mishra.

For instance, summer monsoon drying (10-15% deficit for near-far periods) followed by substantial winter warming (1-4°C) in the future will accelerate groundwater depletion by increasing (6-20%) irrigation water demands and reducing groundwater recharge (6-12%).

The study emphasises groundwater sustainability measures to reduce the threat of the future. It suggests that lesser extraction and enhancing recharge of the groundwater during the summer monsoon seasons are needed to ensure future agricultural production.

WEAKER MONSOON, WARMER WINTER

- Weak summer monsoon followed by warmer winter has created massive loss of groundwater in last two decades in North India as groundwater extraction rose
- North India's groundwater depletion rate of 1.5 cm per year between 2002-2021 poses a great threat to the country's food security

Advanced ‘Kavach’ to keep tracks safe: Vaishnaw

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

THE railways has approved the installation of the "Kavach-4.0" anti-collision device on 10,000 locomotives. This state-of-the-art version of the Kavach system, which has undergone trials in various terrains and weather conditions, has demonstrated near-perfect accuracy in preventing train collisions, according to officials.

Railway Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw announced on Wednesday that the Research Designs and Standards Organization (RDSO) has approved the Kavach-4.0 for widespread deployment. The new system surpasses the previous Kavach-3.2 model in technological advancement and reliability. The installation of Kavach-4.0 is set to begin soon, with the goal of equipping all 10,000 locomotives in the next two years.

"The introduction of Kavach-4.0 marks a significant milestone in railway safety. Our rigorous testing has proven its effectiveness in preventing collisions, and we are committed to deploying this system on a large scale," Vaishnaw said. The installation process will commence soon with the release of tenders to ensure timely and efficient implementation.

The minister noted that the existing Kavach-3.2 system, which is effective on 1,465 routes and operational on 144 locomotives, will be upgraded to the Kavach-4.0 specifications. This upgrade is part of a broader initiative to enhance safety and reduce the risk of accidents.

"In March 2022, based on use cases and feedback from stakeholders, the decision was made to develop Kavach 4.0 for improved reliability and functionality," he said, adding that Kavach-4.0 has met all parameters during its rigorous trials.

Regarding the Kavach installation efforts, the minister explained that high-density rail routes, such as Delhi-Mumbai and Delhi-Howrah routes, were prioritised for the earlier Kavach version. "We will soon invite bids for two new sections for the installation of the advanced Kavach-4.0 on Delhi-Chennai and Mumbai-Chennai sections as well as on important automatic sections," he added.

In response to a question, he stated that the installation of Kavach-4.0 on all locomotives is expected to be completed within the next four years, including coverage for stations and related installations to finalise the system's working configurations. "The Vande Bharat, Vande Bharat Sleeper, and other new trains will be equipped with Kavach on their locomotives, and the government has allocated over ₹1.08 lakh crore for safety-related works this time," Vaishnaw said.

He said that the entire railway network will be covered with Kavach on a mission mode.

IMPROVEMENTS IN VERSION 4.0

- Additional functional requirements such as 'temporary speed restriction'
- Direct interface to electronic interlocking with Kavach (Will remove relays and increase reliability)
- Station-to-station Kavach Communication for improved reliability
- Authority to loco pilots for passing signal at danger in Intermediate Block Signalling and advanced starter on run

NEW KAVACH VERSION HAS UNDERGONE EXTENSIVE TRIALS ACROSS VARIOUS TERRAINS AND WEATHER CONDITIONS

- Improved location precision
- Improved braking curves
- Radio Frequency Identification tag data and radio protocol upgradation for compatibility with LTE (long-term evolution)

KAVACH DEVELOPMENT

- 2014-15: Started installation on 250 route kilometres on South Central Railway on pilot basis
- 2015-16: First field trial on passenger trains
- 2017-18: Kavach specification version 3.2 finalised
- 2018-19: Research Designs and Standards Organisation approves 3 firms based on Independent Safety Assessment
- 2020: Kavach was declared a national automatic train protection system
- 2024: New Kavach 4.0 specification approved

SC expunges ‘unwarranted’ HC judge remarks

SUCHITRA K MOHANTY @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court of India on Wednesday expunged the remarks of Punjab and Haryana High Court's Justice Rajbir Sehrawat, criticising the top court. The apex court deemed these comments "scandalous" and "unwarranted."

The SC bench presided over by Chief Justice DY Chandrachud, however, opted not to issue a contempt notice to Justice Sehrawat despite his alleged criticism of the Supreme Court. The single-judge bench of Justice Sehrawat had, in an order dated July 17, 2024, expressed disapproval of the Supreme Court's perceived presumption of superiority over the High Courts.

During the proceedings on Wednesday, CJI Chandrachud emphasised the importance of judicial discipline and cautioned that greater care should be exercised when addressing the orders of higher courts. He noted that the Supreme Court's actions should not undermine the judiciary, and the court could have issued a notice to Justice Sehrawat for what seemed to be an overreach of the top court's authority. However, the CJI chose to refrain from doing so to avoid placing a High Court judge under judicial scrutiny.

The Supreme Court highlighted that a judge should not be aggrieved by the orders of an appellate court and should refrain from reacting publicly. "Given its position at the top of a hierarchical justice system, the Supreme Court's orders must be complied with by all, including high courts and district courts," the bench said.

Taking suo motu cognisance of Justice Sehrawat's comments, the Supreme Court established a five-judge Constitution Bench led by the CJI, and comprising Justices Sanjiv Khanna, BR Gavai, Surya Kant and Hrishikesh Roy. This bench was tasked with hearing the case, which was registered as 'In Re: Order of Punjab and Haryana High Court dated July 17, 2024, and Ancillary Issues'.

In his July 17 order, Justice Sehrawat had questioned the relationship between the Supreme Court and the high courts within India's judicial framework. He critiqued the Supreme Court for issuing a stay order in contempt proceedings initiated by the high court and questioned the Supreme Court's authority to interfere in such proceedings.

"Seen from a psychological perspective, this type of order is motivated primarily by two factors: firstly, a tendency to avoid taking responsibility for the consequences likely produced by such an order under the pretext that a stay of contempt proceedings does not adversely affect anyone, and secondly, a tendency to view the Supreme Court as more 'Supreme' than it is, while perceiving a High Court as lesser 'High' than it constitutionally is," Justice Sehrawat had commented.

NGT told to inspect silicosis-prone units

Navies of India and Germany carry out advanced maritime operations

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

IN a bid to boost defence ties, the Indian Naval Ship Tabar conducted a Maritime Passage Exercise (MPX) with Sea Lynx of the German Navy.

"Indian Navy's frontline frigate, INS Tabar, during her return leg from St Petersburg in Russia, conducted Maritime Partnership Exercise with German Navy off Kiel Canal on August 5, 2024. INS Tabar had earlier visited Hamburg in Germany from July 17-20, 2024," the Indian Navy said.

The MPX, conducted off Kiel Canal, signifies Indian Navy's outreach and sustenance efforts. also marking a significant milestone in the maritime cooperation between the two countries, the Navy added.

The MPX with the Sea Lynx of third Squadron Naval Air Wing 5 of the German Navy involved a series of advanced maritime operations such as Ship Controlled Approaches, Winching exercises and Vertical Replenishment serials.

The units from both the navies demonstrated high levels of professionalism and commitment to enhance collaborative efforts. India and Germany share a relationship built on a foundation of shared values, democratic principles and commitment to global peace," the Navy said.

Bypolls to 10 UP Assembly seats a litmus test for BJP

False narrative

Yogi called upon party workers to counter the opposition's attempts to mislead people, pointing out "false narratives' in LS polls. Yogi has already hit the ground in Ayodhya a day after taking on the responsibility for Milkipur segment

AFTER the setback in Lok Sabha elections, the BJP appears to have pulled out all the stops to secure victory in the forthcoming bypolls to 10 Uttar Pradesh assembly seats, which experts consider as a litmus test for the ruling party ahead of the 2027 state polls.

Top five BJP leaders, including CM Yogi Adityanath, have taken charge of two seats each as per a strategy finalised at a recent meeting of Yogi's 'Team 30'. Yogi has taken command of two tough constituencies — Milkipur in Ayodhya and Katehari in Ambedkarnagar. Deputy CMs Keshav Maurya and Brajesh Pathak, UP BJP chief Bhupendra Chaudhury and party state general secretary (organisation) Dharampal Singh have been allotted two seats. Phoolpur (Prayagraj) and Majhanwa (Mirzapur) have been assigned to Maurya, Sisamau (Kanpur) and Karhal (Mainpuri), both SP strongholds, to Pathak, Meerapur (Muzaffarnagar) and Kundarki (Moradabad) to Chaudhary, and Khair (Aligarh) and Ghaziabad to Dharampal Singh, party leaders say.

Yogi has already hit the ground in Ayodhya a day after taking on the responsibility for Milkipur segment, vacated by SP's Awadhesh Prasad who emerged a giant killer by winning the Faizabad Lok Sabha seat.

"Winning Milkipur is of utmost importance for the ruling party after it lost in Ayodhya, the epicentre of the Ram temple movement," a party leader said. On a visit to Ayodhya on Tuesday and Wednesday, Yogi reviewed the preparations for Milkipur bypoll with election in-charges and party leaders, exhorting them to ensure proper booth management.

Yogi called upon party workers to counter the opposition's attempts to mislead people, pointing out "false narratives' in LS polls. "The involvement of five top leaders is the party's conscious effort to present a united front to ensure victory in the bypolls," a party strategist said. Political experts say that though bypoll results will not affect the stability of Yogi government but they will help the ruling party in winning the battle of perception after the setback in LS elections.

EC on 2-day J&K visit, NC to go it alone in elections

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

> Before flying to Jammu on Friday, EC will talk to Chief Secretary Atal Duloo and DGP RR Swain. DGP will give a briefing about the situation in Jammu, where there is surge in militant attacks

No alliance: Abdullah

It was expected that the NC may follow the arrangement of LS polls, where they contested in alliance with Congress. "We will not form any alliance for Assembly polls," said NC chief and ex-J&K CM Farooq Abdullah

THE Election Commission (EC) led by Chief Election Commissioner Rajiv Kumar will come on a two-day visit to Jammu and Kashmir on Thursday to seek feedback from political leaders and civil and security officials on holding of maiden Assembly elections in the Union Territory after the abrogation of Article 370.

Meanwhile, the National Conference (NC), which contested Lok Sabha polls in alliance with Congress, on Wednesday announced that it would go solo in Assembly polls in J&K.

After their arrival in Srinagar, CEC Kumar and two Election Commissioners Gyanesh Kumar and S S Sandhu will hold deliberations with leaders of parties and seek their feedback on holding Assembly polls. The parties would raise their concerns, including ensuring level-playing field, for all during the talks, sources said.

In December last year, the Supreme Court had directed that Assembly polls in J&K be completed by September 30. After their interaction with political leaders, the EC team will meet deputy commissioners and SPs to get feedback on the administrative and security situation in their districts. In the evening, EC would interact with chief electoral officer (CEO), special police nodal officer and paramilitary officials to review preparations for the polls, officials aware of the EC schedule said.

Before flying to Jammu on Friday, EC will talk to Chief Secretary Atal Duloo and DGP RR Swain. Sources said the CS and DGP will give EC the overall briefing about the administration and security affairs of J&K. "DGP will give a detailed briefing about the situation in Jammu, where there has been a surge in militant attacks," an official said.

In Jammu, the EC will also seek feedback from security officials about the situation and the measures to be taken to ensure safe and smooth elections. Addressing reporters in Srinagar, NC president Farooq Abdullah said, "We will not form any alliance for Assembly polls. There would not be any alliance." NC won two of the three LS seats it contested and its ally Congress lost both seats from Jammu.

Despite being on leave, SP of Sagar shunted

An IPS officer who was on leave for around a week was among a host of officials removed by the state government in the wake of the August 4 morning wall collapse, which killed nine children in Sagar district. The officials who were shunted include, Sagar district collector Dipak Arya and 2013 batch IPS officer and district police superintendent Abhishek Tiwari. Tiwari was already on leave and is possibly abroad, while the ASP Sanjiv Uike was officiating as SP Sagar, when the mishap happened. Still Tiwari (who is awaiting central deputation) was shunted and attached to the state police headquarters as AIG.

Preacher impersonates as minister's PS, held

A high-profile Katha Vachak (religious preacher) Pushpendra Dikshit has been arrested in Gwalior district for allegedly impersonating as union minister Giriraj Singh's personal secretary to influence the state's DGP Sudhir Saxena for facilitating the transfer of two MP cops. The religious preacher who has pictures clicked with prominent politicians of MP (from BJP and Congress) had in December 2017 also attempted a similar act by posing as the key staff of then external affairs minister Sushma Swaraj to facilitate the transfer of BSF employees.

Former MP minister's remark sparks row

Amid Bangladesh unrest, a Kamal Nath-loyalist former MP minister Sajjan Singh Verma triggered a political controversy with his provocative statements. Verma, former PWD minister and Congress MLA, while drawing parallels between the recent crisis in Bangladesh and similar people's uprising in Sri Lanka few months back, said, "First, it was in Sri Lanka and now it's in Bangladesh that owing to the wrong policies of dictators in power, the people stormed into the residences of the prime ministers of both nations."

Didi rejigs team, changes depts of four ministers

SULAGNA SENGUPTA @Kolkata

THE West Bengal government on Wednesday reshuffled the cabinet by allocating additional departments to some ministers. While Babul Supriyo was given the IT, Public Enterprise & Industrial Reconstruction Department, Manas Ranjan Bhunia took over as the Irrigation Minister. Md Ghulam Rabbani got the Renewable & Non-Conventional Department and Chandrima Bhattacharya was handed over the Environment in addition to her Finance department.

According to sources, the state government was unable to make the reshuffle for quite a while as the file was lying at the Raj Bhavan. On July 18, the Mamata government sent a letter to the Governor regarding the rejig. Even on August 3, the state government sources claimed that no response was received from the Raj Bhavan.

Earlier, the state's Parliamentary Affairs minister, Sobhandeb Chattopadhyay, is learnt to have told the media that the Governors should cooperate and help the state discharge its administrative duties, but in case of the BJP government, the Governors are creating unnecessary conflict to inconvenience the state.

Ayodhya rape survivor undergoes abortion, sample sent for DNA test

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

THE 12-week pregnancy of minor rape survivor of Ayodhya was terminated at Queen Mary hospital in Lucknow on Tuesday. The survivor underwent the abortion with the consent of her family members and the sample of the foetus was taken for DNA test.

As per sources, the foetus samples were handed over to the investigating officer of the rape case and the minor was said to be stable. "We are prepared to conduct DNA tests to strengthen the case against the accused," a senior police officer said. However, the KGMU authorities chose to keep mum over the issue.

The rape survivor, 12, was brought to King Georges' Medical University (KGMU) in Lucknow on Monday from Ayodhya under a tight security and medical cover with Ayodhya CMO and other officials accompanying her to the state capital.

The decision to terminate her 12-week pregnancy was taken after due consent of the family and the outcome of her various tests which were normal. "The decision about the abortion was made by her mother and siblings. No other family members were aware of it. Police have been deployed at the house for their security," the uncle of the girl said while talking to media persons.

As per the SC norms, in such cases, abortion can be performed up to 24 weeks of pregnancy. The survivor is said to be stable and likely to be discharged from the hospital soon. Child Welfare Committee (Ayodhya) chairperson Sarvesh Awasthi said that a woman aide was appointed to take care of the minor. "The support person, appointed under the provisions of the POCSO Act, will stay with the girl," he said.

Moid Khan, Samajwadi Party's city president of Bhadrasa and his aide Raju Khan allegedly abused the 12-year-old, said police.

Family consented

B'luru is a city of opportunities, says MP CM Mohan Yadav

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

Madhya Pradesh Chief Minister Mohan Yadav | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

HIS two-day maiden visit to Bengaluru as the Chief Minister of Madhya Pradesh is packed with scheduled meetings, round tables with industry heads and tech majors. But in his push for seeking investments for his state, Dr Mohan Yadav has not lost sight of MSMEs and startups. "We are looking at developing MP as a model industrial hub of big and small ventures. Our focus will always be on skill development and employment generation for our people," Yadav told TNIE in an exclusive interview.

Excerpts:

What brought you to Bengaluru?

Bengaluru is a city of many opportunities. We are looking at investments in MP and Information Technology (IT) is a priority area. Bengaluru is the tech hub and we have come here with open mind and arms. We want IT majors to also explore MP as a way of expanding their ventures and also as an alternative. We do not intend to wean away investments from Karnataka but they can also look at MP.

What are the advantages of exploring business opportunities in MP?

We are promoting MP in a big way. We are a power and resource surplus state. We have a robust ecosystem, which is constantly evolving and our endeavour is to make it the best. Our industry policy is investment friendly and our IT policy, which was out in 2023, is among the best in the country. We have enough water and land parcels that can be made available for setting up industry. Our agriculture is booming; the growth rate is more than 20 percent and we have skilled manpower. The law-and-order situation in MP is very good and conducive for business investments and expansion. The cost of living is competitive in comparison to cities like Bengaluru and this is what we are also telling the investors here. That they can do business at far more competitive rates. MP is also well known for ease of doing business. Our focus is also on building health and religious tourism, besides wildlife for which the state is well-known.

Which are your priority sectors for investment?

While the focus is on IT, we are looking at investments in almost all sectors; from IT, space technology to education, medical and health tourism, mining, hospitality, garment, entertainment etc. We are not selective. Apart from inviting big players, we have opened our doors to MSMEs and small enterprises as well.

What is the next step after the two-day session here?

We have a follow-up mechanism. Those industries that show interest in coming to MP will be invited to a regional conclave in Gwalior on August 28. We will complete the paperwork and proceed with land allotment. I want my investors to have a wholesome experience of coming to MP.

Did you meet any of your party members in Bengaluru?

No. This is not a political visit. I did meet the Honourable Governor because he is from our state.

Uddhav meets Rahul in Delhi to firm up seat deal for Maha polls

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI & AGENCIES @ Mumbai/New Delhi

Shiv Sena (UBT) chief Uddhav Thackeray and son Aditya Thackeray address a press conference in New Delhi on Wednesday | SHEKHAR YADAV

SHIV Sena-UBT chief Uddhav Thackeray hinted on Wednesday at his readiness to be considered as the chief ministerial candidate for the upcoming Maharashtra Assembly elections, expected in October. Thackeray made these comments following a meeting with Congress President Mallikarjun Kharge, Leader of the Opposition Rahul Gandhi, AICC General Secretary KC Venugopal and other INDIA bloc leaders in Delhi.

Accompanied by his son Aditya and Rajya Sabha member Sanjay Raut, Thackeray emphasised the growing discontent among Maharashtra's farmers and youth with the BJP-led alliance. "The 13 crore people of Maharashtra are yearning for change," Kharge tweeted post-meeting. Gandhi echoed this sentiment, asserting on WhatsApp that the Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA) will contest and win polls together.

Thackeray, who previously led the Shiv Sena-NCP-Congress MVA alliance for two-and-a-half years before being ousted by the BJP, stated he had never aspired to be chief minister but was not one to shy away from responsibility. "If my colleagues in MVA believe I've performed well, they should decide if I should be their chief ministerial candidate. Ultimately, the people will decide," he told reporters.

In the meeting, discussions revolved around seat allocation for the upcoming state assembly elections and the selection of a chief minister. "Congress leaders emphasised their demand for a greater number of seats in the state assembly due to their performance in the recent Lok Sabha elections. Consequently, Congress will contest more seats than Shiv Sena (UBT) and Sharad Pawar's NCP. It was also agreed that the selection of the chief minister will occur post-elections. Therefore, during the elections, the Maha Vikas Aghadi will present a collective leadership rather than an individual candidate," stated a source.

Maharashtra Congress President Nana Patole confirmed that the party will not be declaring a chief ministerial candidate ahead of the elections.

When pointed out that the trigger for the protests in Bangladesh was the government's reservation policy, Thackeray emphasized that similar issues in India should be addressed through discussions in the Lok Sabha. The issue of reservations for the Maratha community and OBCs could become a bugbear for both the ruling Mahayuti and MVA.

Flash flood in U'khand, Dorothy's Seat in rubble

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

IN Uttarakhand, the ongoing landslide disaster of the past fortnight shows no signs of abating. The most recent catastrophe occurred on Tuesday night with a landslide at Tiffin Top peak in Nainital, famously known as Dorothy's Seat, reducing this cherished tourist spot to rubble.

Situated just 3 km from the city, the moderately steep trek to Tiffin Top has long been a popular choice for its stunning vistas. 'Dorothy's Seat', once a scenic viewpoint offering panoramic views of Nainital town and the Himalayan peaks, now lies in ruins.

Local tea shop owner Dinesh Sutha recounted the perilous conditions leading up to the disaster, noting that cracks had already made approaching Dorothy's Seat hazardous. The collapse happened suddenly on Tuesday night, startling Sutha and his nephew Ashutosh, who were present at the time.

Responding promptly to the emergency, District Magistrate Vandana Singh confirmed that landslides struck Tiffin Top around midnight. Fortunately, no casualties were reported, and emergency teams were quickly dispatched to the affected site.

Meanwhile, in Tehri district's Tauliya Kaatal area, residents of Rangad village have endured a distressing 22-day confinement in their homes due to relentless rain and subsequent flooding. The swollen waters of the Chifliti river have not receded, resulting in the closure of local schools.

Rekha Devi, village head of Tauliya Kaatal, explained the community's challenges since the collapse of their pedestrian bridge in 2022 and the subsequent loss of the temporary trolley system in 2023, which necessitated helicopter deliveries during monsoon seasons.

G P Nautiyal, Executive Engineer of Pradhan Mantri Gramin Sadak Yojna (PMGSY) in New Tehri, highlighted efforts to build a new bridge near Dubda-Rangad village, originally planned at 30 meters but now expanded to 48 meters due to heavy rains. A revised proposal for ₹3.67 crore has been submitted for government approval to proceed with construction.

In separate operations, the State Disaster Response Force (SDRF) conducted daring rescues across Uttarakhand. In one instance, they saved 15-20 people trapped in flood-threatened homes in the Kumaon region, relocating them to safety. Another operation in Sonprayag successfully evacuated 150 locals and pilgrims stranded in Gaurikund.

Nandan Singh Rajwar, Disaster Management Officer in Rudraprayag, reported adverse conditions in the Kedarghati area, where heavy rainfall caused the Mandakini river to swell, resulting in the collapse of a temporary Army-built bridge at Sonprayag along the Kedarnath trek route. The incessant rain also disrupted road connectivity, with closures on the Badrinath Highway near Gauchar-Kamed and the Gangotri Highway.

Yunus acquitted in time to head new govt

Nobel laureate was convicted in one of the more than 100 cases

Muhammad Yunus is escorted by French police personnel as he arrives at the airport on Wednesday enroute to Bangladesh | AFP

DHAKA

A Bangladeshi court on Wednesday overturned a conviction against Muhammed Yunus, a day before the Nobel winner is set to return to lead a caretaker government.

"Professor Muhammad Yunus and three of his colleagues have been acquitted of labour charges," one of his lawyers, Khaja Tanvir Ahmed, said.

"The court earlier this year sentenced them to six months in prison."

He was sentenced in January for the labour charge, but immediately bailed pending appeal and later travelled abroad. All four had denied the charges and, with courts accused of rubber-stamping decisions by ousted leader Sheikh Hasina's government, the case was criticised as politically motivated by watchdogs including Amnesty.

"The labour court granted an appeal, and acquitted them," Ahmed said.

The 84-year-old Yunus, known as the "banker to the poorest of the poor", was awarded the Peace Prize in 2006 for his work loaning small cash sums to rural women, allowing them to invest in farm tools or business equipment and boost their earnings.

But his public profile in Bangladesh earned him the hostility of Hasina.

Yunus had earlier announced he would form a political party in 2007 when the country was run by a military-backed government, although he did not follow through on the plan. Hasina in 2008 launched a series of investigations into him.

During the investigations, Hasina accused Yunus of using force and other means to recover loans from poor. Yunus denied the allegations.

Transparency Int'l calls for safety of Hindus

Dhaka: Terming attacks on Hindus as 'against the fundamental spirit' of the students' movement, Transparency International Bangladesh has called on authorities to ensure the security of religious minorities in the riot-hit nation, media reports said on Wednesday. Several Hindu temples, households and businesses have been vandalised and at least two Hindu leaders affiliated with Sheikh Hasina's Awami League party have been killed in the violence, according to community leaders. According to a report, there was vandalism and destruction of singer Rahul Ananda's residence.

Zia says nation needs love, peace to rebuild

DHAKA

A day after her release from house arrest, Bangladesh's former prime minister and BNP chairperson Khaleda Zia on Wednesday thanked the people of the country for their "struggle to make possible the impossible" and said it is not "anger" or "revenge" but "love and peace" which will rebuild the nation.

In her first public speech since 2018, delivered via video link at the Bangladesh National Party (BNP) rally in Nayapaltan, 79-year-old Zia appealed for calm.

She thanked people as they fought and prayed for her to be released from imprisonment, The Daily Star newspaper reported.

"I have been released now. I want to thank the brave people who were in a do-or-die struggle to make possible the impossible. This victory brings us a new possibility to come back from the debris of plunder, corruption and ill-politics. We need to reform this country as a prosperous one," Zia said.

Khaleda Zia

Urging all to strengthen the hands of the youths, the former premier said, "Youths are our future. We need to build a democratic Bangladesh to fulfil their dream, and for which they shed their blood...No destruction, no anger and no revenge, we need love and peace to rebuild our country." Zia was sentenced to 17 years in prison for graft in 2018 under the rule of Sheikh Hasina, 76, who resigned as prime minister on Monday and fled to India in the face of massive protests against her government. The BNP chairperson, currently undergoing treatment for various ailments, was released on an executive order from President Mohammed Shahabuddin on Tuesday.

Zia had been imprisoned for more than two years. On March 25, 2020, the Hasina government suspended her sentence and granted her conditional release through an executive order. The rivalry between the leaders has defined politics in Bangladesh for decades. PTI

Blow to Ranil as scion of Rajapaksas in poll race

COLOMBO

NAMAL Rajapaksa, the 38-year-old heir to the Rajapaksa dynasty, was on Wednesday named as the SLPP candidate for the presidential election, thus officially ending Rajapaksa family's backing to the incumbent Ranil Wickremesinghe. Sagara Kariyawasam, the general secretary of the Sri Lanka People's Front (SLPP, also known locally by its popular Sinhalese name, Sri Lanka Podujana Peramuna), announced the younger Rajapaksa's candidacy early on Wednesday morning at a ceremony at the party headquarters.

Namal's entry has made the election a four-cornered contest. Besides, President Wickremesinghe, the main opposition leader Sajith Premadasa and the Marxist JVP leader Anura Kumara Dissanayake are already in the fray.

The Rajapaksas 'Mahinda, Basil and Gotabaya' were instrumental in Wickremesinghe winning the parliamentary vote in July 2022 to take over Gotabaya's remaining term. PTI

RUSSIA BATTLES DARING BORDER INCURSION IN KURSK

MOSCOW

RUSSIA was battling a major cross-border incursion from Ukraine for a second day on Wednesday, with authorities evacuating several thousand civilians due to fighting, officials said.

The incursion began on Tuesday morning, with Russia's defence ministry announcing it had deployed air and artillery firepower to repel Ukrainian troops breaking into the western Kursk region.

President Vladimir Putin accused Kyiv of attacking civilian buildings and said he was meeting security service chiefs to discuss a response. "The Kyiv regime has undertaken another large-scale provocation," he said in a televised meeting with government officials on Wednesday.

"It is firing indiscriminately from various types of weapons, including rockets, at civilian buildings, residential houses and ambulances," he added. At least five civilians have been killed and 24 wounded since the incursion began, 13 of whom have been hospitalised, according to Russian officials.

The Russian defence ministry said hostilities were ongoing in a statement, but stressed "the enemy's movement further into Russian territory had been prevented". Authorities have evacuated several thousand people from the region and cancelled all mass gatherings, Kursk regional governor Alexei Smirnov said. "Over the course of the last day, with our help, several thousand people left the shelling zone by personal transport," Smirnov said in a video message on Telegram.

But he added: "The situation in the region is under control". Ukraine has not claimed responsibility for the incursion, the most serious in months.

However, a source in Ukraine said that Kyiv struck a Russian helicopter over Kursk region.

ASIA MATTERS

IT'S OFFICIAL, REFORMIST PARTY BANNED

The Constitutional Court voted unanimously to dissolve the Move Forward Party (MFP) and ban its executive board, which includes its former leader Pita Limjaroenrat, for 10 years, judge Punya Udchachon said. Pita, 43, led the reformist MFP to a shock first place in a general election last year after striking a chord with young and urban voters with his pledge to reform Thailand's strict royal defamation law.

Adani Ent to raise ₹12K cr via QIP

Share sale will lead to 2.75-3.3% dilution of promoters' stake in the company

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

THE flagship Gautam Adani Group firm – Adani Enterprises Ltd (AEL) – will be testing waters in the equity market for the first time since its aborted follow-on offer in February 2023. The company is planning to raise ₹10,000-₹12,000 crore via qualified institutional placement (QIP) as early as September this year.

Sources close to the development confirmed the plans of Adani Enterprises.

As per sources, top banks like State Bank of India (SBI), ICICI Bank and HDFC Bank are likely to participate in the QIP. Some foreign banks including Jefferies are likely to participate in the current round of the fundraising.

Last year, it had to scrap its ₹20,000 crore follow-on offer after the Hindenburg report was released on 24 January 2024. The report had levelled serious allegations of price rigging and insider trading, among others, on Adani group. AEL in May this year has decided to enter the capital market again with ₹16,600 crore equity fundraising plan to fund its growth plans.

QIPs are an easier way of raising money through sale of shares to institutional investors. The share sale by Adani Enterprises may lead to 2.75-3.3% dilution of promoters' shares. Currently, promoters hold 74.92% in Adani Enterprises. After the company had to cancel its FPO plans in February 2024, the US-based GQG Partners had come to its rescue and bought shares worth ₹15,500 crore in four Adani Group companies including Adani Enterprises.

Adani Enterprises houses energy & utility, infrastructure (including airports), minerals, metals and mining and direct-to-consumer businesses. AEL has a market cap of ₹3.6 lakh crore. Its shares were trading at ₹3,186 a piece, still 21% below its all-time high of ₹4,019 prices achieved in November 2022. It has debt of ₹56,664 crore as of June 30, 2024, up from ₹50,124 crore at the end of March quarter. It has been able to improve its net debt/EBIDTA ratio from the high of 5.2 times at the end of FY22 to 2.1 times at the end of first quarter of FY25.

Recently, Adani Energy Solutions (AESL) raised ₹8,373 crore via QIP route. This marks AESL's first equity raise in capital market since its demerger and listing from Adani Enterprises Limited in July 2015.

AS PER SOURCES, TOP BANKS LIKE SBI, ICICI BANK AND HDFC BANK ARE LIKELY TO PARTICIPATE IN THE QIP

After three consecutive losing sessions, equity benchmarks make a comeback

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

AFTER closing in the red for three straight sessions, domestic equity benchmarks — BSE Sensex and NSE Nifty50 — ended higher on Wednesday amid an improvement in global cues and a rally in the major markets. The benchmark indices, along with the broader market, were under severe selling pressure since last Friday over fears of recession fears in the US and appreciation of Japanese Yen.

The BSE Sensex surged 874.94 points or 1.11% to close at 79,468 while the NSE Nifty50 climbed 304.95 points or 1.27% to end at 24,297. The broader market indices outperformed the benchmarks with the Nifty SmallCap 100 and Nifty MidCap 100 gaining 2.86% and 2.45%, respectively.

"Global markets experienced a notable rebound after the Bank of Japan's Deputy Governor reassured that the central bank would not raise interest rates during a period of financial instability. The domestic market also witnessed broad-based buying across sectors, with the realty sector seeing a relief rally due to the reinstatement of indexation benefits," said Vinod Nair, head of research, Geojit Financial Services.

He added that the carry trade issue appears to have been eased for now and the focus is on the ongoing RBI policy, which is likely to hold the rate and positive economic outlook.

In the Nifty50 pack, 44 stocks ended higher, with ONGC, Coal India, Adani Enterprises, and Adani Ports gaining up to 7.45%. On the BSE, 25 out of 30 shares ended in the green. Most sectors contributed to the upward movement, with metals, energy, and pharma being the top performers. The volatility index, INDIA VIX, fell 14% to around 16.17, indicating a drop in volatility.

Hrishikesh Yedve, AVP technical and derivatives research at Asit C. Mehta Investment Interrmediates, said, "Domestic benchmark indices began higher on Wednesday, driven by strong global sentiment… Technically, Nifty50 has been taking support near 24,000 and maintaining the 50-DEMA support despite turbulence, resulting in a relief rally. 50-DEMA is currently near 23,980, and as long as the index holding above it relief rally likely to continue.

On successful trajectory to profitability: Akasa Air

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AKASA AIR is hopeful of becoming one of the top 30 airlines in the world by the turn of this decade, the airline said on Wednesday as it completed two years of operations. Akasa also said it is on a successful trajectory towards profitability and expects seat capacity to rise 50% on an annual basis this fiscal year.

"Akasa's unwavering commitment to cost leadership, supported by operational and financial discipline, has set the airline on a successful trajectory toward profitability. In the last fiscal year, Akasa achieved a 300% growth in available seat kilometres (ASKM), setting a new record for airline growth that surpasses 122 years of global history," the airline said.

It added, "With the strong financial foundation the airline has built, it anticipates a year-on-year increase of 50% in its available seat kilometers."

The airline, which now has a market share of less than 5% in the domestic market, operated its first commercial flight on 07 August 2022 from Mumbai to Ahmedabad. Akasa now operates over 900 weekly flights across 22 domestic and five international destinations, achieving the milestone of serving over 11 million passengers in two years.

In January 2024, the airline announced a firm order of 150 aircraft to support its expansion plans. In March 2024, it became the first Indian airline to fly overseas in a record period of 19 months. Vinay Dube, founder & CEO, Akasa Air, said, "In this past year, we have been India's leader in on-time performance while registering greater operational reliability, and lowest customer complaints, and cancellations in the industry."

'About 70% of 2-wheelers will be electric by 2030'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

THOUGH charging infrastructure in the country remains low, Guruprasad Mudlapur, President of the Bosch Group in India, and managing director, Bosch Limited, is confident that by 2030, 20% of passenger cars and 70% of two-wheelers will be electric.

Speaking at a press conference here on Wednesday, he said scooters will lead the way with higher penetration and heavy commercial vehicles (HCVs) will be more towards hydrogen. The company is working on new projects, including hydrogen technology. "The ecosystem of hydrogen distribution has to come in and we believe it will take some time. We expect about 10% of HCVs to be hydrogen by 2030," Mudlapur said.

In its annual report, the company said, "We are actively engaged in developing hydrogen engine technology for the Indian market in collaboration with Bosch Germany."

When asked about the global semiconductor supply situation, he said the supply criticality of semiconductors has largely eased and that they do not see major issues coming up.

"That said we always need to be quite watchful on this because things can go in different directions. We are cautious and are taking it step by step. At this point of time, looking into coming quarters, we do not foresee any semiconductor related issues coming in," he said.

On Q1 FY25 performance, he said the financial year commenced with moderate growth in the automotive market despite the challenges of a high base from the previous year, a slowdown related to elections and the summer heatwaves.

The company's profit before tax stood at ₹611 crore in June quarter, a rise of 14.7% as against the same period last year. Its total revenue from operations in Q1 stood at ₹4,317 crore, a rise of 3.8% compared to the year-ago period.

RIL's capex falls 7% to ₹1.32L cr in FY24

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

EVEN as the government and bankers claim that credit demand from corporates are inching up indicating a revival in the much-delayed and much-desired animal spirit of India Inc, the largest corporate Reliance Industries' capital spending has dipped by a 7% year-on-year in FY24 to ₹1.32 trillion (₹1.32 lakh cr), despite a spike in operating income that grew in high double-digits.

The company said the entire capital expenditure in the reporting period was fully covered by internal cash generation and still it is sitting on cash balance of over ₹2 trillion. The company closed FY24 with an operating income of ₹1.79 trillion, from which it had earned ₹79,020 crore.

While RIL has long-term debt of ₹1.61 trillion, it's sitting on a cash pile of ₹69,248 crore and has assets worth ₹9.6 trillion and liabilities of ₹2.4 trillion as of March 2024.

The company said in the FY24 annual report that all its business verticals — oil and gas, retail, digital services, and oil-to-chemical — saw improvement in operational performance in driving operating income up by 16.1% to ₹1.79 trillion in FY24.

"RIL has consolidated its balance sheet after the previous round of capex and is ready for the next level of growth," Mukesh Ambani, chairman and MD, wrote in the annual report. In the previous year, its capex was stood at ₹1.42 trillion, as per the report released on Wednesday, which also said the company is ranked at 86th in the Fortune 500 list. Lower capex helped the company improve its operational performance with the consolidated operating profit rising by 16.1% to ₹1.79 lakh crore from ₹1.54 lakh crore in FY23.

The growth was driven by a 28.4 percent increase in operating income in the retail segment benefited from improved operating leverage, higher footfalls, and growth in digital channels.

The digital services segment also saw a 12.7% operating income increase due to higher revenue from an expanded subscriber base and increased customer engagement.

Jio's share in data traffic has surged to 60%: Ambani

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE launch of Jio 4G mobile telephony services in 2016 transformed India from a data-scarce country to a data-rich nation, providing every Indian with affordable, high-speed 4G data, said Mukesh Ambani, Chairman and managing director of Reliance Industries Limited.

"Jio has further enhanced the country's digital infrastructure by rolling out its True5G network across India in world-record time," he said.

As per Reliance Industries' annual report, the country's largest telecom service provider has seen its share of India's overall data traffic surge to 60% in the financial year 2023-24.

As highlighted in the annual report, Jio's share of India's data traffic has surged to nearly 60%, solidifying its position as the most preferred broadband network. Notably, the Jio True5G network accounts for nearly 30% of Jio's mobile data traffic, with all 5G data being carried on Jio's proprietary 5G-4G combo core. Furthermore, Jio is the sole operator in India deploying 5G using standalone architecture, as stated in the report.

The company's continued investments in the next-generation networks and cutting-edge digital technologies are expected to sustain its competitive edge, drive further market share growth, and ensure strong and consistent shareholder returns in the years to come.

Tata enters mid-size SUV segment with Curvv.ev, starting price ₹19.25L

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

MARKING its entry in the mid-size SUV segment, Tata Motors on Wednesday launched Curvv.ev and showcased the internal combustion engine (ICE) versions of the vehicle. The Tata Curvv EV 45 is priced between ₹17.49 lakh and ₹19.29 lakh, while the longer-range Curvv EV 55 is priced between ₹19.25 lakh and ₹21.99 lakh.

The auto major will announce prices of Curvv (ICE) on September 2. The vehicle in the lineup will allow Tata to compete against the likes of established players such as Hyundai Creta, Kia Seltos, and Maruti Suzuki Grand Vitara in the fast-growing mid-SUV segment. Among EVs, it faces competition from MG ZS EV.

suv coupé
CURVV

It is confident that aggressive pricing and many segment-first features of the coupe-styled SUV would allow it to replicate the success it achieved in the micro SUV and sub-compact SUV segments with Punch and Nexon. The mid-SUV segment clocked volumes of about 680,000 units last year, accounting for a third of overall SUV sales. Tata Motors was absent from this space.

"We have nearly tripled our market share in last 4 years… We now host the most innovative and advanced portfolio of SUVs in the country…The mid-SUV segment has grown sharply in last few years… In a cluttered segment, we decided to stand out by bringing in the premium and dynamic design in the form of SUV Coupe… The customer now has a choice to buy an EV lower than the price of an SUV," said Shailesh Chandra, MD, Tata Motors Passenger Vehicles and Tata Passenger Electric Mobility.

The launch of Curvv comes as it has seen a fall in its passenger vehicle (PV) sales, especially of EVs, in recent months. Tata' domestic PV sales fell 6% to 44,725 units in July 2024 from 47,628 units in July 2023. EV sales fell 21% to 5,027 units last month. The automaker's June PV sales had declined 8%. As per government's Vahan data, in July 2024, Tata Motors' share in EV market came down to 63% from 70% it had in July 2023.

Sebi to ease entry barriers for registered advisors

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

MARKET regulator Sebi is planning to make it easier for new registered investment advisers to register by reducing entry barriers for them by cutting compliance costs and making it more lucrative for new entrants.

In a consulation paper released on Wednesay, the Securities and Exchange Board (Sebi) proposed easing of restrictions and regulations governing the registered investment advisers (RIAs). The proposals come after calls from the investment advisory community over concerns of high regulations for far too long. The paper is an acknowledgement by the regulator that the county needs more RIAs whose number only 961 now, to cater to a large investor base and has made key proposals.

Some of the proposals include making a graduate eligible to become an RIA as as opposed to the existing requirement of a post-graduate degree. In addition, Sebi has proposed that RIAs don't need work experience while the present norms demand RIAs must either have a PG degree or a graduate degree with five years of work experience. If accepted, this would allow new RIAs to join the profession easily apart from allowing corporate RIAs to recruit junior level people, straight out of college, as para-planners and give them training on the job.

CAREER JOURNEY

From a Telugu village to SBI corner office

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

CHALLA Sreenivasulu Setty assumes the corner office of the country's largest lender at a time when the bank is in the pink of its health in over a decade as his predecessor Dinesh Khara is leaving a very strong balance sheet with best asset quality and much larger retail franchise.

Setty's rise to the pole position — his appointment as the 27th chairman of the State Bank of India was cleared by the Cabinet Committee on Appointments last night — is a typical example of how hard work and dedication, and not pedigree, can take one to the peak of one's career and life — having been born as the son of a rural financier in the undivided Andhra Pradesh on September 26, 1965, in the Peddapothulapadu village of the Jogulamba Gadwal district of the present-day Telangana.

His humble roots become clearer when one comes to know that he had his entire schooling in the Telugu medium government schools. Later on, Setty did a bachelor's in agriculture from the Acharya NG Ranga Agricultural University. He is also a certified associate of the Indian Institute of Bankers.

Setty will assume office on the August 28 for a three-year term, the day Khara superannuates after helming the bank since October 7, 2020, including a ten-month extension from last October.

Before being appointed chairman, Setty was the senior most of the four managing directors of the bank looking after the international banking, global markets and technology verticals after begging as a probationary officer in 1988 and the first assignment at the Baroda branch. Over his more than three-decades-long career, he has gained experience in corporate, retail, digital, and international banking.

Setty's name was cleared by the Financial Services Institutions Bureau on June 29, 2024, after interviewing the other two MDs-- Ashwini Kumar Tewari and Vinay M Tonse.

"Setty is a storehouse of knowledge and an excellent leader who will definitely take SBI to greater heights. It is a treat working with him," a former long-time colleague said.

Consultation for satellite spectrum grant to begin

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

CITING the ongoing growth momentum led by government capex, deleveraged balance sheets of corporate quality banks' assets, and a likely revival in private corporate capex, India Ratings has upped its growth forecast for the current fiscal to 7.5% — the highest among all analysts and 30 bps over the Reserve Bank estimate.

The agency had previously projected 7.1% uptick in the GDP, which has surprisingly grew at 8.2% in FY24. At 7.2%, the Reserve Bank forecast is the highest from the official estimates, which was revised up by 20 bps from its April forecast, while the budget has pegged it at 6.5-7%. Pegging higher growth at 7.5% for this fiscal, the agency in a report Wednesday said the Budget promises to bolster agricultural/rural spending, improve credit delivery to MSMEs and incentivise employment creation in the economy.

Given these, the agency believe these measures would help in broad-basing consumption demand which if not addressed can constrain the ongoing growth momentum. Expecting consumption demand revival, which grew only 4% in FY24, which is not even half the rate of GDP growth, the report expects private final consumption expenditure to grow 7.4% in FY25, up from 4% in FY24.

Bhaker gets enthusiastic reception

Lifted on shoulders, garlanded and showered with rose petals — star pistol shooter Manu Bhaker's return to the country was a memorable affair as hundreds of supporters braved a steady drizzle to welcome her on Wednesday after her historic two-medal finish in Paris Olympics.

1st Spain won the inaugural marathon race walk mixed relay Olympic title

About 12 hours after entering the final, the 29-year-old's hopes came down crashing as she was overweight...

100gm. That's the weight of a regular-sized apple, a small cup of peanuts or less than a cricket ball. It is insignificant a weight for an average human being. In sport it's that thin line between a medal and eviction from a tournament. Just 100g is enough to shatter a dream and bring a grappler on to the mat. Shattered and broken.

Vinesh Phogat has faced many battles in her career. From injuries to getting dragged on the streets of the national capital, she has endured much. She managed to get up every time. But this 100gm will weigh her down and scar her forever after getting disqualified from the 50kg before the medal event on Wednesday But it doesn't matter. She is the story of the Olympics and will always remain one.

24-carat gold.

*** *** ***

The joy is gone. A pal of gloom descended on the contingent. They were distraught and broken. Within 12 hours of confirming a medal, Phogat had been placed last. This doesn't normally happen in professional sports. No one remembers when the last time an athlete was disqualified for failing to make weight on the morning of a medal bout at the Olympics. Just 100 grams. A day after the greatest moment of her life, Vinesh was stood down.

On Tuesday night when the support staff found out that she was more than 2kgs above the threshold, they started mat training after all the bouts finished. She also did skipping, running and other exercises. The team knew she had to shed weight. According to national coach Virender Singh Dahiya, she left for the Games Village at 11.30PM. "Her physio, strength and conditioning coach, personal coach and practice partner were with her as well. We don't know what happened in the morning. Her extra weight fluctuated between 100gms and 125 gms. The time allotted for weighing was 7.15am to 7.30am. Since 5.30am, even Dr Dinshaw Pardiwala, IOA's chief medical officer and chef de mission, Gagan Narang were with her. They were using treadmill and sauna bath but it didn't help. The weather was cool in the morning and sweating was not as easy. That too could have contributed. Wrestlers do this all the time."

Providence, fate or luck this did happen on Wednesday in Paris at the 2024 Olympics. A grappler who was assured a medal the previous day and was scheduled to fight for gold had been disqualified for being overweight by just 100gms. Weigh-ins before bouts are mandatory. The rule was introduced in 2017. The United World Wrestling rules say no matter what the grappler has to come for weigh-in or will be eliminated. The India camp — coaches and support staff — were crying. She had already cut her hair before the Olympics. One has to understand that maintaining 50kg, which is not her natural weight, would always be difficult. She competes in 53kg weight category and usually weighs two-three kilogrammes more. Here she was competing in 50kg and her team of coaches and support staff had been doing a perfect job to keep her at 50kg. She had weighed 49.9kg on the first day. But the body needs fuel to fight three bouts. She had to drink water to rehydrate and energy foods. She usually weighs around 55-56kg which makes it easier for her to grapple in 53kg. Yet she reduced her weight to 49.9kg on the first day. "It is a big shock for entire Indian contingent," said coach Virender. Yesterday when she made it to the final, we thought this will motivate the entire squad. However, unfortunately, it is not the case with the weight. We had some hope from Antim but we have to say, the decision has affected us. Earlier, Nisha got out because of an injury. Antim is world No. 4. But, you can see that it has affected the performance of the entire wrestling contingent."

Cutting down weight is as gruelling as the game. Players stop eating and drinking water. Some even drink coffee to suppress hunger and other crazy things. It is understood that she was a bit overweight in the morning and they tried to shed as much as possible. Apparently, she did not sweat as much as the weather was cool in Paris on Wednesday.

As per Article 11, which deals with weight-in, of UWW's chapter 3 - Competition Procedure, if an athlete does not attend or fail the weigh-in (the first or the second weigh-in), he/she will be eliminated from the competition and ranked last, without rank (exception in case of medical intervention).

Vinesh apparently got dehydrated soon after failing to make the weight cut. She was taken to the Games Village medical centre with her team. The IOA officials and other officials also accompanied her.

The Paris Games official site updated the Vinesh matter and published the UWW statement. "Vinesh failed second day weigh-in. According to the Article 11 of the International Wrestling Rules, Vinesh will be replaced by the wrestler who lost against her in the semifinal. Therefore Guzman Lopez Yusneylis of Cuba will compete in the Final. Repechage Yui Susaki vs Oksana Livach will become bronze." Both Livach and Susaki lost to Vinesh. Wrestling Federation of India president Sanjay Kumar Singh said he too was there and tried to present Vinesh's case to the UWW. "I met the authorities responsible for the weigh-in and even spoke to the UWW officials trying to explain them the situation but they said rules cannot be compromised. Vinesh did her best to shed those extra few grams but it's really unfortunate that this has happened ahead of her gold medal bout," he said.

Vinesh may not come back with a medal but she will be remembered as one who almost ruled the world. The superstar of Indian women wrestling.

Vinesh appeals to CAS, ruling on Thursday : It is learnt late on Wednesday that Vinesh has gone to Court of Arbitration for Sport, which has a special office here at the Olympics, with an appeal for a joint silver. The issue will be heard early on Thursday and a result might be delivered.

Sad for Vinesh but rules are rules: Nenad

INDRANEEL DAS @ Paris

HOURS after Vinesh Phogat was disqualified from the Paris Olympics after being found overweight ahead of her women's 50kg final, the United World Wrestling (UWW) president Nenad Lalovic spoke about the rule due to which the Indian wrestler was rendered medalless.

Lalovic spoke to a few Indian journalists just after the first session of wrestling bouts got over here at the Champs-de-Mars Arena in Paris on Wednesday. He said that rules are rules and now nothing can be done about Phogat's disqualification. "You have to respect the rules," he said. "I am so sad what happened to her.

UWW chief Nenad Lalovic | UWW's X

The weigh-in is in public (it gets recorded) and all other wrestlers are there. Everybody who goes to the medal round knows that they will be weighed in again."

The weigh-in takes place in front of two referees who check whether the athlete follows all due process. Apparently, she was weighed in on a different machine as well. Given the weight category (50kg) Vinesh was competing in, her weight has to be 50kg or below.

A section of the coaches here believe that cutting weights for women on successive days is quite difficult and the UWW should review this, Lalovic, on the contrary, said that they should be more strict now. "We have to be more strict on this. We are seeing that wrestlers are losing too much weight and that is not good for them. Many see what happens in the moment but they don't see what happens in the future. We want athletes to compete in their natural weight."

Lalovic said that "unfortunately this is the second case here". The previous case was not in the medal round. "That makes no difference," he said. "Weigh-in is in public and everybody sees it," he said and again rued what happened with Vinesh.

The UWW chief also said that he has followed Vinesh's journey but did not want to comment because it was involving India. Whether some changes can be made to the rules he said no. "We have to respect the rules. They are in public and it's for everyone. If we don't have the rules what do we have? Ugly mess."

Sable finishes 11th in final

AGENCIES @Paris

AVINASH Sable finished 11th in the men's 3000m Steeplechase with a timing of 8:14.18 at the Stade de France. Earlier, javelin thrower Annu Rani once again failed to impress on the global stage as she made a qualification round exit with an extremely poor.

The 31-year-old national record holder opened her event with 55.81m and could not improve upon that mark in her next two attempts to finish at 15th among 16 competitors in Group A and 26th overall. In another below-par show, 100m hurdler Jyothi Yarraji failed to book an automatic semifinal spot after finishing seventh in her round one heat race.

High jumper Sarvesh Anil Kushare also failed to reach the final round after finishing 13th (2.15m) in Group B. Earlier, the marathon race walk mixed relay team of Suraj Panwar and Priyanka Goswami did not finish the race.

Antim accred cancelled, to be sent home with support staff

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

INDIA'S wrestling campaign seems to have gone worse from bad. In a shocking development, wrestler Antim Panghal, who bowed out of the 53kg competition after losing her first round bout to her Turkish opponent Zeynep Yetgil on Wednesday, is likely to be sent back home for indiscipline.

It is learnt that the 19-year-old wrestler from Haryana left the Games Village soon after her bout and reached a hotel where her coach and sister were staying (the coach accompanied her from the competition venue). She then allegedly asked her sister to bring her belongings from the Village after handing her the Olympic accreditation.

"The sister was trying to enter the Village posing as Antim. However, authorities found it out," a source in the know of developments told this daily. The security team at the Village even called the cops after detaining the sister. The cops then apprised the Indian Olympic Association (IOA) officials of the development. "As the IOA is responsible for the Indian contingent at the Games, their officials have been informed about the developments. Antim and others involved in the incident are expected to be sent back home tonight (Wednesday night)," said the source.

"The Indian Olympic Association (IOA) officials spoke to the cops and requested them not detain Antim's sister. They agreed but she was sent back to hotel. All of them have been asked not to venture out of the hotel room," added the source.

It is learnt that the IOA is trying to arrange flight ticket for Thursday morning to make sure Antim along with others fly out of Paris as soon as possible. "After the incident, Antim's accreditation has been cancelled. The IOA will also discuss the issue with the Wrestling Federation of India."

Another source told this daily that the wrestler went missing from the Village on Tuesday as well. "She was not at the Village on Tuesday. She even missed the evening training session. No wonder despite being World No 4, she lost the first bout to World No 12 wrestler 10-0 (technical superiority)," the source said.

Sources also informed that she has requested for return tickets to India for Wednesday for herself and her support staff including coach, physiotherapist and sparring partner along with her sister. However, later she apparently changed the decision and requested for return tickets for Thursday.

Indian Olympic Association immediately swung into action after learning about the incident. "The Indian Olympic Association has decided to fly wrestler Antim and her support staff back after a disciplinary breach was brought to IOA's notice by the French authorities," the IOA said in a statement.

Antim Panghal (R)) was also understood to be overweight before weigh-in | AP

No two-day weigh-in system despite UWW's 2017 rule

Vinesh Phogat's disqualification seems to have had a ripple effect on the Indian contingent. Antim Panghal, lost her 1/8 bout against Zeynep Yetgil of Turkey (10-0) by technical superiority in just 1.41 minutes on Wednesday. Antim's hope of making it to the repechage round was dashed when the Turkish athlete bowed out after losing to Germany's Annika Wendle. Sources claimed Antim too struggled to cut the weight in the first weigh-in on Wednesday morning. The 19-year-old Haryana wrestler was said to be overweight by 200 grams at the time of weigh-in that too despite starving since Tuesday evening. The disastrous turn of events brings back an issue, which led to the suspension of a wrestling coach for six years, into discussion. Former wrestler and ex-national women's team coach Kripashankar Patel raised a similar issue back in 2017 when the United World Wrestling (UWW) introduced the two-day weigh-in system.

MARIT WINS WOMEN'S GOLD

Marit Bouwmeester of the Netherlands won the gold medal in the women's dinghy at the Paris Olympics on Wednesday, marking the fourth straight Games in which she has reached the podium. Denmark's Anne-Marie Rindom, a four-time Olympian who won gold in Tokyo three years ago, took the silver medal. Line Flem Hoest of Norway got bronze. In the men's dinghy race, Australia's Matt Wearn won gold.

WEIGHTLIFTING

From 100gms in morning to 1000gms late at night, India's sorrow tale continues

INDRANEEL DAS @Paris

WATCHING a 49kg women's weightlifting is bizarre and stupefying. The bar weighs 20kg and is as tall as the women competing at the event. The weight they lift is more than the body weight in clean and jerk and in snatch is about a shade less than double.

A 4 ft 9 inches and 49kg frame doesn't look like hauling a 20kg bucket, let alone 88kg in snatch at the Paris South Arena on Wednesday. Tokyo Olympic silver medallist Miraba Chanu's target was to lift a good snatch. She has a strong clean and jerk and her personal best stood at 119kg, which was also a world record then. But that was before the career-threatening injury. Because of the fragile back, transitioning weight from the lower to upper body has been the most challenging.

On a day when the India needed a balm of medal at the Paris 2024 Olympic Games, Mirabai couldn't lift 114kg in clean and jerk and move ahead of Thailand's Surodchana Khambao. The failed attempt meant she finished fourth and medalless. A cruel place to end. She lifted 199kg overall (88kg in snatch and 111kg in clean & jerk). This probably this is Mirabai's last Olympics (injuries have been her constant company). She wanted to walk into the sunset with a medal. Her journey with coach Vijay Sharma had been a memorable one. Because of the injury she was cautious and did not compete in major events. She was saving it for the Olympics. Even if the back breaks or she may not be able to walk, the Olympics will be her final tryst.

Mirabai and her team reached Paris well before their competition on July 7. China's Hou Zhihui had beaten her at the Tokyo 2020 Games. Zhihui had totalled 210kg in Tokyo. Mirabai had claimed the silver three years ago with 202kg.

At Paris, Mirabai has entered 85kg as the starting lift in snatch – her weaker link. China's Zhihui finished with gold (89+117=117) and Romanian weightlifter Mihaela Cambei finished second (93+112=205). Thai lifted Surodchana lifted 200kg (88+112).

While Mirabai was in action, the coach looked more nervous than the lifter. More than her ability, he was worried about her back. It should not crumble in the middle of the tournament. They have managed it until now for one last try. But tonight is not the night. This was India's sixth fourth-place finish at the ongoing Games.

As the government extends the deadline for restaurants, bars, and other businesses to stay open till 1am, stakeholders in the city weigh in on the impact

BIZ HEAVE A SIGH AS CUR-PHEW GETS EXTENDED

MONIKA MONALISA

MUSKAAN Jain was quite happy when she got the news of the Karnataka government issuing an order extending the deadline for hotels, pubs, and shops to remain open until 1am. "I finish work pretty late. My only way of unwinding is catching up with friends over a drink. Sometimes, it used to be cut short because of the previous deadline, but the 1am deadline works out better," says the 25-year-old mechanical engineer.

Shutting down pubs and restaurants early was a huge limitation on these businesses. Terence Prasad, general manager of Uru Brewpark, says the move will bring significant relief to the staff. "With the 11pm deadline, we used to get the last order at 10pm, and all the orders would come at the same time. The staff used to be under a lot of pressure, but with the 1am deadline, orders will be spread out, and the staff will be able to relax. Revenue-wise also, it's better because people start late and would like to stay longer," says Prasad.

Meanwhile, Prathik Shetty, founder of The Reservoire, says the move will not make a huge impact on the drinking crowd."The later deadline is nice for people who want to grab dinner late. But what would have been good for bars is permission to stay open until 2am. What I noticed is that reservations used to start from 7-8 pm, but now they start from 9-9.30 pm. This is mainly due to workload and traffic. So people only have around two hours to unwind. At least a 2am deadline should be allowed on weekends," he explains.

While the F&B industry is happy with the move, residents of commercial areas like Indiranagar aren't thrilled. Vishwarup Roy, a 50-year-old resident of Indiranagar, says it's a never-ending menace. "Multiple complaints have come from the residents of Defence Colony," says Roy.

The rule also applies to other business establishments that come under BBMP. Husna Sait, who runs a fashion boutique on Commercial Street, says the move is not exactly beneficial for an outlet like her's. "Our business is based on customer visits and that stops beyond a point. Keeping the store open for longer means extra time for the staff and extra electricity bills. It becomes an expensive affair," says Sait.

'IT'S GETTING HARDER & HARDER TO BE AN ARTISTE'

Ahead of her show in Bengaluru this month, internationally-recognised music sensation Vidya Vox gets candid with CE about the constant struggle for financial stability, her new EP Sundari, and more

RESHMI CHAKRAVORTY

SHE'S known for her unique blend of Western pop and traditional Indian music... Vidya Vox, born Vidya Iyer, has become synonymous with musical innovation and cross-cultural fusion. She has carved out a niche for herself in the global music scene. Born in Chennai, Vidya later moved to the US. Growing up in a family with a rich musical heritage, she was exposed to a variety of musical styles from a young age. She first gained prominence with her YouTube channel, where her covers of popular songs and traditional Indian music went viral. Her covers of hits like Be The Change, a mashup of Shape of You by Ed Sheeran and Channa Mereya, showcased her talent for creating a harmonious blend of different musical traditions. Her debut single, Kuthu Fire, was a fusion of Tamil and Western music that captured the essence of her musical style. The song's success was followed by a series of successful releases, including Alvida, Saree Ka Fall Sa, and Pehla Nasha, each of which further solidified her reputation as a trailblazer in the world of music. The artiste, who will be in Bengaluru this month, with her latest EP Sundari, gets talking to CE. Excerpts.

What sort of music can the audience expect at the show?
There will be a lot of songs from my new album Sundari, as well as some of my older hits, mash-ups and fun Bollywood remixes. Come ready to sing and dance!

Can you share how your musical journey began?
It began at the age of five with Carnatic music which I learned with my sister. In college, after I met Shankar Tucker, we started collaborating on YouTube for his channel. I would tour with him on the weekends and then I realised music is something that I wanted to do, and here we are. That was a hard decision to make but I haven't looked back since.

How did growing up in both India and the US influence your musical tastes and style?
Growing up here allowed me to broaden my listening to different genres and musical influences. I draw inspiration from a bit of everything, and it allows me to create my own unique style.

How do you go about selecting which songs to cover and blend it into your own unique style?
It honestly just depends on if I like the song, if I can contribute a different perspective to it and if it sounds good in my voice. The Venn diagram of those three really narrows my choices.

You've collaborated with various artistes. Could you tell us about a collaboration that was particularly meaningful or memorable for you?
That feels like picking a favourite child! I've honestly loved all my collaborations, the artistes I've had the opportunity to work with are some of the best and contribute such a unique flavour to each song. Most recently, in Sundari, working with Rohith Jayaraman was so brilliant because he's so virtuosic and his style added such a cool layer to Yaazhiha. Same with Nikhita Gandhi on Dangerous. It was such a fun collaboration and she added such a badass vibe to the song.

What are some of the biggest challenges you've faced in your career?
There are so many! I feel like each phase has one huge challenge – in the beginning, it was proving that I'm here to stay, even as an independent musician who has mainly used social platforms to release my music, and my shows are just as fun! A constant struggle has always been financial stability, and people don't talk about it enough. Large streaming platforms don't pay artistes their dues and it's getting harder and harder to be an artiste.

What messages or emotions do you hope your music conveys to your audience?
I have always strived to make women feel empowered by listening to my music. There are no boundaries in our journey, we can be whoever we want to be in a world that is constantly putting us in boxes.

Is there a particular mantra or philosophy that guides you in both your personal and professional life?
Trust your gut, trust your body when it gives you a read on the situation.

Renowned dancer late Maya Rao's swan song, Kathak Through the Ages, is being revived with a dance production

An Ode To KATHAK

MONIKA MONALISA

IT'S a busy time of the year, and acclaimed Kathak danseuse Madhu Nataraj is immersed in the final preparations for the Natya Institute of Kathak and Choreography's annual dance production, Maya Arpan.

This year holds special significance as the institute celebrates its 60th anniversary, and to mark the occasion, the production will highlight the philosophies of Maya Rao, Nataraj's mother and the co-founder of the institute. "Founded in New Delhi in 1964 by my mother and her mentor, Kamaladevi Chattopadhyay, the institute has a very illustrious history. In an era of start-ups and short-term projects, maintaining relevance and constant innovation is a remarkable achievement. It's a lifetime for us. This year, we decided to revive my mother's swan song, Kathak Through the Ages," says Nataraj. Originally titled Arpan, the production was renamed Maya Arpan after Rao's passing in 2014.

The production comprises of nine pieces, all within a one-hour slot without intervals. What's more, instead of merely a student showcase, this time, it features 50 per cent participation by the performing unit. "Graduates of our company, who have been senior dancers for 10-20 years, are also going to perform. For the youngsters and students, dancing alongside professionals is a significant opportunity, and for the professionals, it's always humbling to revisit their early days," says Nataraj, noting that the production also features voice-over by veteran actor Ashish Vidyarthi.

Reflecting on the institute's journey, Nataraj describes navigating these 60 years as a balancing act. "With each passing decade, society has become more fast-paced and more destination-oriented. In times like these, when one can learn a piece in a week and perform on a reality show, telling people they need 10 years of training before they go on stage is challenging. But we have managed to do that. It also means competing with more glamorous optics. Our motto has always been to keep pace with the times without compromising our values," says Nataraj, who will also be performing her choreography.

(Maya Arpan will be staged on August 8, 7pm at Chowdiah Memorial Hall, Malleswaram. Tickets start at ₹300 on bookmyshow.com)

ASK AN XPERT

I have recently started my weight-loss journey and worry about sagging skin. How do I deal with it?

Consuming certain nutrients, like collagen, and performing resistance training may help tighten skin after weight loss. You should be more worried about the health repercussions due to excess fat and its impact on your joints. If you lose weight the wrong way, you will be left with a pile of loose skin hanging all over you. If done the right way, the impact is a lot less. Here is your action plan. Start slow. Address your diet, eat clean and healthy, be on a calorie deficit, and expend calories via exercise and movement. Include the most important and neglected component of fitness, which is strength training. This helps build lean muscle mass, keeps the skin taut, and prevents sagging to a large extent. I would also recommend you include healthy fats, drink plenty of water, and get massages regularly.

FITBIT

CHAIR SEATED SHOULDER CIRCLES

This is a beginner-level pose that can be performed to warm up the shoulders and upper back. It is included in all types of yoga at all levels. Commonly seen in traditional Hatha yoga, this exercise is included in the Pawanmuktasana Series. Although it is a beginner level movement, it can be difficult for people with tightness in their shoulders and upper back region. With time, regular practice of this can help increase the range of motion of the joint and strengthen the shoulders and arms. This can be done standing too, but this variation shall be specific only to senior citizens, pregnant women, or inmates.

STEPS

- Sit in Chair Mountain Pose. Ensure that your spine is erect.
- Keep your shoulders rolled back and dropped down to avoid hunching.
- Lightly touch your shoulders with your fingertips by bending your elbows.
- Inhale and keep your arms close to your ears.
- Inhale, bring your arm backwards, and observe the expansion of your chest and diaphragm.
- Observe the scapular retraction and begin the external rotation of your shoulder joint.
- Drop your arms down and exhale. Bring your elbows to the front of your chest until they touch each other. This brings the shoulders back into internal rotation.
- This completes one round of shoulder rolls, incorporating one inhalation and one exhalation. Continue this for around 6-10 rounds, with normal breathing and relaxation. Keep the neck relaxed.
- Bring the arms down by the side and relax before repeating the same thing in the opposite direction.
- Repeat the same circular motion in the other direction.
- Finally, take a few breaths in Tadasana before moving on to the next posture.

THE REAL PICTURE

In the light of World Breastfeeding Week, held every year between August 1 and 7, we bust myths and misconceptions for new and expecting mothers

DR RAVNEET JOSHI

BREASTFEEDING is a natural and essential part of motherhood, offering numerous benefits for both mother and child. However, many myths and misconceptions surround breastfeeding, often leading to confusion and unnecessary challenges for new mothers. Here are some common myths surrounding breastfeeding.

"Breastfeeding is easy for everyone"

A prevalent myth is that breastfeeding comes naturally and easily to all mothers. While breastfeeding is a natural process, it is not always easy and requires learning and practice. Many mothers face challenges such as difficulty latching, low milk supply, or sore nipples, especially in the early days. These challenges do not indicate a failure on the mother's part. Seeking support from lactation consultants, paediatricians, or breastfeeding support groups can make a significant difference and help mothers enjoy their breastfeeding journey.

"Babies need extra milk in the first few days"

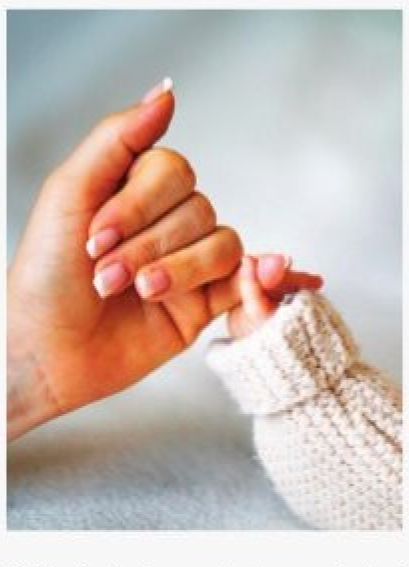
Some believe that newborns require extra milk in the first few days because the mother only produces a small amount. This is a myth. The first milk, known as colostrum, is produced in small quantities but is incredibly rich in antibodies. It is all a newborn needs, helping to develop the baby's immune system and providing an excellent start in life. By day 3 or 4, more milk is produced, and the supply adjusts to meet the baby's demands.

"Breastfeeding makes mothers gain weight"

Contrary to this myth, breastfeeding can actually help mothers lose weight. Producing breast milk burns about 500 calories a day. Therefore, breastfeeding mothers are more likely to shed the extra weight gained during pregnancy compared to those who do not breastfeed.

"You must have a perfect diet to breastfeed"

While a healthy diet is beneficial, it is not necessary to have a perfect diet to produce nutritious breast milk. The body is remarkably resilient and can produce high-quality milk as long as the mother consumes an additional 500 calories and 25 grams of extra protein daily.



Maintaining a balanced diet and staying hydrated helps mothers feel their best and supports milk production. Additionally, the types of foods and spices a mother consumes can influence the taste and smell of her breast milk, exposing breastfed babies to a wider variety of tastes and smells compared to formula-fed babies.

"Mothers should produce equal quantities of milk from both breasts"

It is common for mothers to have uneven milk production or differences in the quantity of milk produced from each breast. Often, the right breast produces more milk compared to the left, which is perfectly normal. This natural variation is not a cause for concern.

"Baby formula is as good as breast milk"

While formula provides essential nutrients, breast milk is uniquely tailored to meet a baby's specific needs and contains antibodies that help protect against infections and helps baby's brain development. Breast milk is easier for babies to digest and can reduce the risk of developing allergies, obesity, and certain illnesses later in life. The composition of breast milk changes over time to meet the evolving nutritional needs of a growing baby, something formula cannot replicate.

"Breast size determines milk production"

Breast size does not determine milk production. Milk supply is based on the demand-and-supply principle; the more a baby nurses, the more milk a mother produces. Mothers with small breasts can produce just as much milk as those with larger breasts. The size of the breast does not affect the quantity of milk produced; what matters is how frequently you feed your baby.

"Breastfeeding always empties the breast"

Breastfed babies regulate their milk intake according to their needs, and the breasts continuously produce milk based on demand. Therefore, it is not necessary for a baby to completely empty the breast during each feeding. Instead, milk is produced as needed to meet the baby's requirements.

"Breastfeeding makes babies too dependent"

Some believe that breastfeeding makes babies clingy or overly dependent. In reality, breastfeeding fosters a strong emotional bond and sense of security between mother and child, which is crucial for healthy development. This bond provides a foundation of trust and confidence that actually supports independence as the child grows.

"You can't breastfeed while working"

Many working mothers successfully breastfeed by planning and seeking support. Expressing and storing breast milk can allow a mother to continue providing breast milk even when separated from her baby. With supportive workplace policies and flexible arrangements, breastfeeding can continue alongside a career.

Awareness campaign for blood stem cell donation held

On July 30, the International Day of Friendship, a special event was held to raise awareness about the critical importance of blood stem cell donation as patients suffering from blood cancer and blood disorders often rely on blood stem cell transplants for a second chance at life. Organised by DKMS BMST Foundation India, a non-profit organisation focussed on fighting blood cancer, the event highlighted the powerful connection between friendship and life-saving acts of kindness. With only 0.09 per cent of Indians registered as stem cell donors, the event stressed the urgent need for more diverse donors. Through simple registration steps, including a cheek swab, healthy adults between 18 and 55 can potentially become lifesavers for those battling blood disorders. If you're eligible, register as a blood stem cell donor by ordering your home swab kit at www.dkms-bmst.org/register.

‘BHEEMA EXPLORES BENGALURU’S GRITTY REALITY WHILE OFFERING COMMERCIAL ENTERTAINMENT’

A SHARADHAA

VIJAY Kumar’s journey in the film industry is a tale of transformation and vision. Starting with a key role in Ranga SSLC and appearing in films like Monalisa, Jogi, and Shree, he got his first major break as lead with Suri’s Duniya. Over the past two decades, Vijay has acted in over 18 films and has now made a striking transition to directing. This shift came after a producer’s comment on his film’s marketability sparked a new direction for him. With his directorial debut Salaga being well-received, he is now ready to unveil his second project, Bheema, scheduled for release on August 9.

Produced by Jagadeesh Gowda and Krishna Sarthak, Bheema explores a dark and unpleasant side of Bengaluru. This film, featuring Vijay in the lead role, deals with relevant themes such as drug addiction and societal decay. According to the makers, the film’s intense atmosphere is matched by its evocative soundtrack, composed by Charan Raj, which has already caught the public’s eye.

Vijay’s attraction to these intense subjects is deeply personal. “I am a good listener. The stories I’ve heard about Bengaluru’s dark side—its drug issues, the hidden struggles—are the stories that need to be told,” he says. “With Bheema, my aim is to awaken parents to the realities of their children’s lives, which might be unsettling. I strive to blend commercial entertainment with the harsh truths of Bengaluru’s world.”

He goes on to add, “The film carries a significant message, delivered in an engaging way and without being preachy. It’s a narrative that isn’t confined to a single genre; it’s a film for everyone, encapsulating the experiences of various people.”

Vijay has been particularly secretive about the film’s plot, but he describes Bheema as a film that plays a vital part in understanding societal issues. “Just as blood is essential for the body, Bheema is crucial for society. Its significance will become clear once the audience watches the film.”

Vijay emphasises the importance of authenticity in how the film treats its subject, something which extends to his casting choices as well. Talking about the fresh cast for the film, Vijay says he has embraced the ‘vocal for local’ philosophy, championing fresh talent with the debut of Ashwini, a theatre artist turned actor, alongside Black Dragon Manju and Chandru, and Jayasurya among others. “Working with established actors can sometimes limit authenticity. I also prefer casting local talents and non-actors who naturally embody their roles. They may be common people today, but they have the potential to become tomorrow’s stars. Even though newcomers face challenges, they rise to the occasion and bring genuine depth to their characters,” Vijay signs off.

...Says Vijay Kumar as he discusses his upcoming film Bheema, which he directed and stars in, his approach to casting, and more

Bheema represents a collective hope for Kannada cinema

...Says dialogue writer Maasthi as he talks about his upcoming film with his director-actor friend Vijay Kumar

MAASTHI, known for his sharp and impactful dialogue writing in films like Tagaru, Salaga, and the recent Kaatera, is currently one of the most sought-after dialogue writers in Kannada cinema. When asked about his esteemed position, Maasthi responds with humility. “Yes, the demand is certainly there, and with it comes a certain level of pressure. I’ve worked hard to earn the affection of both directors and audiences for my dialogues, and maintaining that standard in every film is my sweet challenge.”

His next is Bheema, which he views as a film that represents a collective hope for the entire film industry, unlike any other project. “The anticipation surrounding Bheema isn’t just mine; it’s a reflection of the entire industry’s hope,” Maasthi asserts. “With Vijay stepping into the director’s role after the success of Salaga, expectations are sky-high. I firmly believe that Bheema will exceed all those expectations.”

Reflecting on his collaboration with Vijay Kumar on Bheema, Maasthi praises his director and friend. “Vijay is not just a priceless friend but also a remarkable mentor. He has a unique ability to learn from each film and teach those around him. His talent lies in ensuring that dialogues are both natural and realistic, a quality that greatly influenced my work on this film.”

The title Bheema resonates with strength and power, and Maasthi has infused the film’s dialogue with contemporary slang and regional vernacular. “The dialogue includes unique terms like ‘Saik,’ ‘Juttu,’ ‘Meter,’ and ‘Field,’ reflecting the current slang used by the youth,” Maasthi explains. “Credit for this goes to Duniya Vijay, who wanted the dialogues to feel authentic and representative of today’s language. The film features a mix of fiery mass dialogues and classic lines, making Bheema a guaranteed mass entertainer.”

My mother reignited my hopes in the acting world: Shreyas

Shreyas

CE FEATURES

SHREYAS, the first member of his family to enter the film industry, takes immense pride in his first film as an actor, Genius Muttha, which also marks the directorial debut of Nagini Bharana. The teenager sees this project as a significant milestone and credits his parents for their immense support in realising his acting dream. “My parents always encouraged me to explore cinema. They would often ask, ‘Why don’t you try your hand at acting?’” Shreyas recalls. Their encouragement led him to audition for several films, despite the fact that he faced multiple rejections. “There were moments of frustration, and I even thought it might be too late to continue,” he admits as he looks forward to the release of his film on August 9.

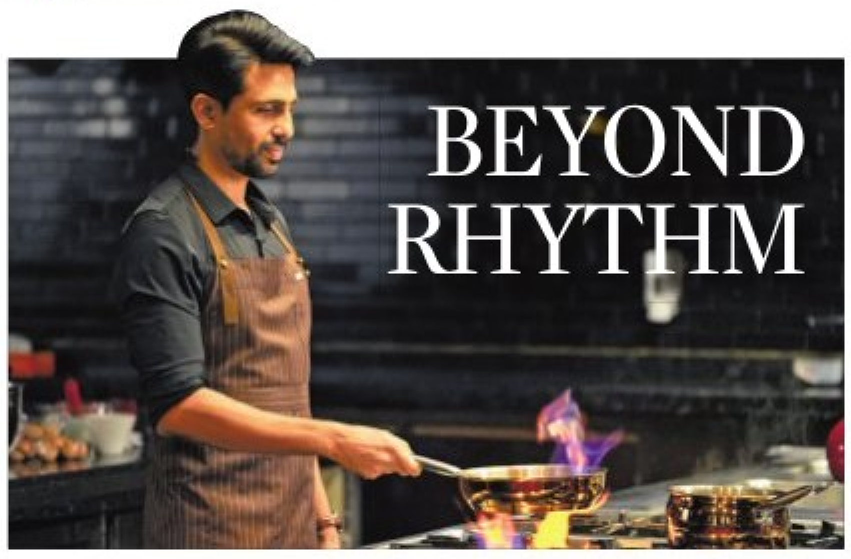
The turning point for Shreyas came when his mother decided to produce Genius Muttha, reigniting his hopes in the acting world. “This opportunity allowed me to pursue further cinematic education under Nagabharana uncle,” Shreyas explains. “From him, I learnt many aspects of film craft, including framework and dialogue delivery.” This training proved invaluable, helping him perform effectively in a single take during the shoot. Genius Muttha features a stellar cast, including Vijay Raghavendra, Girija Lokesh, TS Nagabharana, Sunder Raj, and Pannaga Bharana, all providing tremendous support.

Shreyas fondly recalls watching the film Chinnari Mutha two years ago, without any inkling that he would one day make his acting debut under Nagabharana’s direction. “I was deeply impressed by Nagabharana’s uncle’s adventurous spirit and Vijay anna’s (Vijay Raghavendra) performance. At that time, Vijay was around twelve years old, and his acting in Chinnari Mutha was exceptional,” he says. This experience left a lasting impression on him, leading him to revisit many old films.

Before Genius Muttha began, Shreyas notes that some preliminary preparation was done by director Nagini Bharana. “The complete story wasn’t revealed at first, but I gradually understood that it is a film with a strong narrative. There’s no doubt that it’s an inspiring movie,” he adds.

Beyond acting, Shreyas has always been passionate about learning new skills, and from a young age, he has had a keen interest in sports, especially cricket. “I don’t set high expectations from the film industry. If a good role comes my way, I’ll take it. Otherwise, cricket remains my primary focus, followed by cinema,” he concludes.

BEYOND RHYTHM



KARTIK BHARDWAJ

GULSHAN Devaiah is quite unpredictable. He opens up with a song before our interaction begins. Fixing his hair and smiling over Zoom, he croons ‘Chehra Kya Dekhte Ho’, a Kumar Sanu and Asha Bhosle duet, from the 1993 film Salaami. It seems like an exercise in ‘breaking the rhythm’ of a scene, something the actor has spoken about in previous interviews while owing the method to the late thespian Irrfan Khan. “Unpredictability is not doing something suddenly, it’s not playing to a rhythm,” says Gulshan. “I saw Irrfan doing it in Rog (2005). In a scene where he talks about missing home and his mother. So, when you already know your lines, when you know what you have to do, how you have to react, how do you maintain the illusion of reality intact? By this, by not playing to the rhythm.”

Gulshan recently featured in the espionage-thriller Ulajh, as a calculated, honey-trapping agent. “My character is just a chef,” he says with a grin. We ask him what he thinks of the spy genre. “It’s exciting, dangerous and quite entertaining. I loved watching the Bond films,” he says.

This is also his first collaboration with National Award-winning director Sudhanshu Saria, who is known for films like Loev (2015), Knock Knock Knock (2020), and for directing two episodes of the series Big Girls Don’t Cry (2024). “I was not familiar with his work,” says Gulshan. “His process can be irritating sometimes because he obsesses over very small details. There was constructive friction between us but it never went overboard.” The actor, in another interview, had candidly spoken about not “vibing” with co-star Janhvi Kapoor off-screen. “I have worked with people I don’t like, Janhvi is definitely not that,” he says. “Sometimes you put your personal opinions aside and do your job. I am a professional and she is too.” But aren’t things easier if you have a rapport with your co-actor? “Definitely,” says Gulshan. “But it’s similar with me and Rajkummar (Rao), we don’t really talk much otherwise but there is still chemistry between us on screen.”

Gulshan Devaiah

Acting science aside, the economics hasn’t been favouring. Hindi films have failed to leave a mark at the box office. Ulajh, since its release last Friday, has had a steep drop in box office numbers after Monday. While last year, Shah Rukh Khan’s Jawan and Pathaan and Sunny Deol’s Gadar 2 brought Hindi cinema out of its slump, it was momentary as star vehicles like Bade Miyan Chote Miyan and Maidaan in the first half of 2024 haven’t attracted enough footfalls at the ticket counters. But Gulshan feels this is nothing out of the ordinary. “It has always been difficult to run films in theatres,” he says.

‘Being the face of Kabandha is a big step-up for me’

...says Prasad Vashist as he discusses his career and experiences as well as the importance of the film for today’s generation

CE FEATURES

PRASAD Vashist's journey in the film industry has been one of perseverance and dedication. After 10 years and over 16 films, including notable works like Buguri, Dada is Back, Mugulu Nage, Vijayanand, and Kranthi, Prasad is now set to make a mark as the lead in Kabandha. Reflecting on his long-standing connection with the big screen, Prasad shares a personal reason for Kabandha's release at the Anupama Theatre on August 9.

"My father, Nagaraj Rao, early in his career, sat at the ticket box office of this theatre for 2 years. Today, he is proud that his son is not only the face of the film but is also venturing into production with it and having it released at this theatre," says Prasad Vashist. He also takes the opportunity to thank his guru, Nischal, for guiding him to this point.

Having played key roles, Prasad considers being the face of the film a significant step up. "Of course, the story is what revolves around everything, and we just bring the characters to life. Moreover, sharing screenspace with noted actors like Kishore, Avinash, and even Prashanth Siddi and Yogaraj Bhat was a learning curve," says Prasad while adding, "I am looking at Kabandha as a foundation for my career."

In Kabandha, directed by Sathyanath, Prasad plays Nachiket, a hesitant, good-for-nothing character who experiences a transformative journey. "I could relate to my own life journey. At one point, I wanted to make a change, and I am glad that I could make it with Kabandha," he reflects.

The film explores a psychological horror element set against an agricultural backdrop. "The content is strongly rooted, and there is character depth," says Prasad, who asserts that the film deals with a subject that is much needed for today's generation. "Education about agriculture is important among the younger generation. Even though children are influenced by Western culture, they should study their roots. Moreover, agriculture is an important aspect of everybody's life, and understanding it leads to better living," says Prasad, who hopes that Kabandha will create some awareness while entertaining its psychological horror essence.

Produced by Kunjara Films in association with Hobox Studios, Kabandha features cinematography by Vishu Prasad, background music by Sai Teja and Raghothama NS, and editing by Satyajith Siddakatte.
